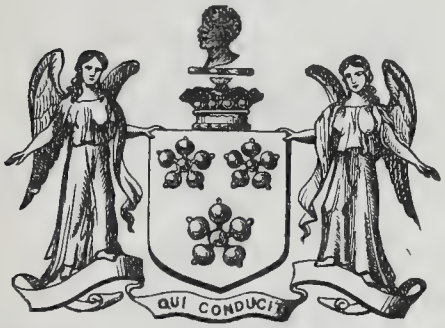
BORTHWICK.



BORTHWICK, BARON (Archibald-Patrick-Thomas Borthwick), in Scotland, b. 3 Sept. 1867; s. his father as 17th baron, 1885.

Lineage.

SIR WILLIAM BORTHWICK was employed in various Scottish embassies to England between 1398 and 1415. In 1410 he had a charter from the Regent Albany of the lands of Borthwick, in Selkirkshire, which had been known under that name as far back as the reign of WILLIAM THE LION. He was a hostage for the safe return of JAMES I., in 1421; a Commissioner to treat for that King's release in 1423, and one of the assize on the trial of Duke Murdoch in 1425. On 2 June, 1430, JAMES I. granted him permission under the Great Seal to erect and fortify a castle in the Mote of Lochorwart, in the county of Edinburgh. Borthwick Castle, the fortress then built, is remarkable for solidity and regular masonry, and its walls are still well preserved. Of his daus., Janet was 2nd wife of Sir James Douglas, 1st Lord Dalkeith; and Margaret, m. Sir William Abernethy, of Saltoun, who was killed at Harlaw, and in 1421 had a dispensation to marry William Douglas younger, of Dalkeith, stepson of his sister. His son and heir,

SIR WILLIAM BORTHWICK was keeper of Edinburgh Castle during Albany's regency, when he is prominent in the Exchequer accounts among the magnates who habitually plundered the Customs. He was knighted at the baptism of JAMES II., and was made a Lord of Parliament as Lord Borthwick, on 12 June, 1452. This date, given in the "Auchinleck Chronicle" is corroborated by record evidence. No instrument of creation is extant, but the investitures of the lands seem to have been to heirs male. Of two younger sons, James, of Glenelt, and Thomas, of Collielaw, the former had issue. The eldest son,

WILLIAM, 2nd Lord Borthwick, m. 1458, Mariota Hopringle, and d. 1483, when he was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 3rd Lord Borthwick, slain at Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, having two sons,

I. WILLIAM, 4th Lord.

II. Alexander, of Nenthorn, co. Roxburgh, who, by Margaret, his wife, had a son, William, of Soltray, who d. before May, 1541, leaving, by Janet, his wife, a son, William, of Soltray, who d. before May, 1549, father of William, of Soltray, who m. Katherine Crichton, and d. before January, 1564, leaving two sons,

1 William, of Soltray and Johnstonburn, forfeited his estate 1603, and d. 1640, leaving, by Barbara Lawson, his wife, two sons,

William, of Soltray and Johnstonburn, d. before 1669, leaving a son and two daus.,

1 WILLIAM, de jure 10th Lord Borthwick, being heir male of John, 9th Lord. He was a major in the army, and was slain at the battle of Ramillies, 23 May, 1706, without issue.

1 Barbara, m. William Borthwick, of Falahill.

2 Katherine, m. William Stewart.

Alexander, living 1668, m. Sibilla Cairnes, and was father of William, of Pilmuir and Mayshiell, who m. 1st, Marion Borthwick (by whom he had Mary, m. to Sir Alexander Livingston, and Margaret, m. to John Campbell, of Knockreoch); 2ndly, Marjory Stewart, by whom he had a son, Capt. Henry, killed at Ramillies, leaving, by his wife, Mary, dau. of Sir Robert Pringle, of Stichill, Bart., two sons, WILLIAM, de jure 11th Lord, and HENRY, of whom below, as 12th Lord.

2 Alexander, of Reidhall and Sauchnell, d. leaving issue,

Andrew Borthwick, of Sauchnell, m. Margaret Turnbull, and had issue,

Archibald Borthwick, minister of Polwarth, d. before Sept. 1799, leaving a son,

Patrick Borthwick, m. Marion Scott, and d. 1772, leaving a son,

ARCHIBALD BORTHWICK, de jure 13th Lord Borthwick, sometime of Christiansund in Norway, and afterwards of Edinburgh, s. his cousin in 1772. He m. before 1780, Margaret Scott, and d. 1815, leaving issue,

PATRICK, de jure 14th Lord.
Rachael, d. 1876.

PATRICK BORTHWICK, de jure 14th Lord Borthwick, manager of the National Bank, Edinburgh, claimed the peerage in 1816. He m. 13 Nov. 1804, Ariana, dau. of Cunninghame Corbet, Esq. of Tollcross, and sister of Ross Corbet-Porterfield, Esq. of Duchal, and d. 12 April, 1840, having had issue,

I. ARCHIBALD, de jure 15th Lord Borthwick, b. 31 Aug. 1811, who m. 1 Aug. 1840, Mary-Louisa, dau. of John Home-Home, of Longformacus, and d. 3 July, 1863, leaving two daus., Louisa-Ramsay, m. 3 June, 1873, Lieut.-Col. Henry-Philip-Miles Wylie, late King's Royal Rifle Corps, and Mary-Catherine, m. 1870, William-George Spens, Esq., and has issue.

II. CUNNINGHAME, 16th Lord Borthwick.

III. Thomas-Scott, d. unm. 22 April, 1839.

WILLIAM, the 4th Lord Borthwick, entrusted with the command of Stirling Castle (containing the infant king), m. 1491, Margaret, dau. of John, Lord Hay, of Yester, by whom he had two sons and two daus. The eldest son, William, the Master of Borthwick, m. Mariot Seton, dau. of George, Lord Seton, but d. in the life-time of his father without issue. Of the daus., Katherine, m. Sir James Crichton, of Frendraught, and Janet, m. Alexander Lauder, of Haltoun. This 4th Lord Borthwick was possessed of considerable estates in the cos. of Edinburgh, Selkirk, Berwick, Peebles, and Aberdeen, and he made a settlement of his estates in the year 1538. Dying 1542, he was s. by his only surviving son,

JOHN, 5th Lord Borthwick, who took an active part in public affairs at the time of the Reformation, which he opposed, saying that he would believe as his father had done before him. He m. the Lady Isabel Lindsay, eldest dau. of David, 8th Earl of Crawford, and d. 1565, leaving issue,

WILLIAM, 6th Lord Borthwick.
Mariotta, m. to Andrew Hoppringle, of Galashiels.

WILLIAM, 6th Lord Borthwick, also took an active part in public affairs, and warmly supported the cause of Queen MARY. He m. Grissel, eldest dau. of Sir Walter Scott, of Branxholm, and by her (who m. 2ndly, Walter, son of John Cairncross, of Colmslie) had two sons, WILLIAM, Master of Borthwick, who d. unm. 17 March, 1570-71, in the lifetime of his father.

JAMES, 7th Lord Borthwick.

William, 6th Lord Borthwick, d. before 1597, and was s. by his only surviving son,

JAMES, 7th Lord Borthwick, who did not long enjoy the title, having d. Dec. 1599. He m. 1582, Margaret, eldest dau. of William, Lord Hay, of Yester, and by her (who m. Sir Robert Lauder, of Popil) had one son,

JOHN, 8th Lord Borthwick, who was served heir to his father in the barony of Borthwick, 4 July, 1621. He m. Lady Lilias Kerr, 5th dau. of Mark, 1st Earl of Lothian, by whom he had a dau., m. to Robert Dundas, of Harviestown, 2nd son of Sir James Dundas, of Arniston, and a son,

JOHN, 9th Lord Borthwick, who was b. 9 Feb. 1616. In 1650, he held out his castle of Borthwick against a siege by Oliver Cromwell, and obtained honourable terms of surrender. He m. 23 Aug. 1649, Lady Elizabeth Kerr, 2nd dau. of William, 3rd Earl of Lothian, without issue. He d. 1672, and was s. in the castle of Borthwick, &c., by his nephew, John Dundas, son of his sister, who was served heir to him.

(The Borthwick title then remained dormant for some time. Neither Major William Borthwick (then de jure 10th Lord), nor William, son of Captain Henry, who were in turn entitled to the peerage, assumed it.)

William, de jure 11th Lord Borthwick, being heir male of William, de jure 10th Lord (refer to issue of Captain Henry Borthwick, son of William Borthwick of Pelinore). He d. without issue before 1723.

Henry Borthwick, resumed the title in 1727, voted at elections of Peers in 1734 and succeeding years down to 1761, when, in consequence of a protest against his vote, and an order by the House of Lords that he should abstain from voting till he had established his right, he claimed the title by petition to the King in 1762, and on the report of the House of Lords, was found entitled to it as heir male of the body of the 1st Lord. He m. 5 March, 1770, Margaret, dau. of George Drummond, of Broich, co. Stirling, but d. s. p. 6 Sept. 1772, and the title again became dormant, not being assumed either by Patrick Borthwick, who survived only a few weeks, or by Patrick's son Archibald, then absent in Norway; and in the meantime (1774), John Borthwick, of Crookston, presented a petition claiming the dignity on an averment of descent from a younger son of the 1st Lord; but no judgment was pronounced on his claim. In 1808, the rightful heir, Archibald, returning home, took proceedings to establish his right by petition to the Crown, and was opposed by John Borthwick, of Crookston, son of the claimant of 1774, who now rested his case on a denial of the legitimacy of Alexander Borthwick, of Nenthorn, a plea which struck at the right of Henry Lord Borthwick, which had been admitted in 1762. In respect of a discrepancy between the pedigree given in 1762, and that asserted by the claimant, Archibald (arising from an accidental omission of a generation in the former), the Committee of Privileges allowed the question to be opened up: but neither claim was then pressed to a decision, although on the death of Archibald, his son Patrick (1816) petitioned the crown anew. On the death of Patrick's elder son, in 1863, the representation devolved on,

Cunninghame Borthwick, 16th Lord Borthwick, elected a representative peer in 1880, D.L. co. of Wigtown, b. 6 June, 1813; m. 18 July, 1865, Harriet-Alice, dau. of Thomas-Hermitage Day, Esq., banker, of Rochester, and had issue,

I. Catherine-Mary, m. 29 Jan. 1885, Sir Offley Wakeman, 3rd bart. of Rorrington.

Sir Charles-Henry inherits two baronetcies: of one he is the 11th in succession; of the other, the 3rd.

Lineage.

The family of Rouse is of very high antiquity in the several counties of Sussex, Worcester, Warwick, Gloucester, and Hereford. Dr. Nash, in his History of Worcestershire, mentions that its patriarch in that shire accompanied the Conqueror into England; and the statement is confirmed by the Battle Abbey Roll. On 23 July, 1641, the dignity of Baronet was conferred upon

Thomas Rouse, Esq. of Rouse Lench, co. Worcester, eldest son of Sir John Rouse, Knt. He m. 1st, Jane, dau. of Sir John Ferrers, of Tamworth Castle, by whom he had,

I. Edward, his heir.
I. Hesther, who m. Sir William Russell, Bart., and had an only child,

Mary, who m. 1st, H.-C. Cotton, Esq., by whom she had a dau., Catherine, wife of Thomas Lewis, Esq.; and 2ndly, Lord Arthur Somerset, by whom she was mother of Mary, who m. Algernon Greville, Esq., and had a son, Fulke, and two daus., of whom the elder, Mary, became the wife of Shuckburgh Boughton, Esq., and was the mother of Sir Charles-William Rouse-Boughton, 9th bart.

II. Mary, who m. E. Phillips, Esq., and was grandmother of Thomas-Phillips Rouse, Esq.

Sir Thomas m. 2ndly, Frances, dau. of David Murray Esq., and had by her, two sons, Francis and Thomas. The younger of these sons,

Sir Thomas Rouse, the 4th bart., d. in 1721, when the issue male failed, and the estates of Sir Thomas passed to his then only surviving sister,

Elizabeth Rouse, at whose decease, unm. in 1729, her sister Mary's grandson, the next male relation of the family, inherited, viz.,

Thomas Phillips, Esq., who assumed the surname and arms of Rouse, and took up his residence at Rouse Lench. This gentleman served the office of high-sheriff of Worcester, as Thomas Rouse, Esq., in 1733. He d. unm. in 1768, and was s. by his cousin, Charles William Boughton, Esq. (2nd son of Shuckburgh Boughton, Esq. of Poston Court, co. Hereford, and grandson of Sir William Boughton, 4th bart. of Lawford, co. Warwick), who assumed the surname of Rouse, and represented the boroughs of Evesham and Bramber, as Charles-William Boughton-Rouse, Esq. Mr. Boughton-Rouse was chief secretary, in 1784, to the Board of Control, and, upon retirement from office, was created a Baronet, 28 June, 1791; but very soon afterwards he inherited the baronetage of his own family, the Boughtons, to which we must now revert.

I. William Boughton, Esq. of Lawford, son of Edward Boughton, and Elizabeth his wife, heiress of Edward Catesby, grandson of William Boughton (who d. 38 Elizabeth), by Jane his wife, sister of Thomas Coningsby, and great-grandson, by Elizabeth his wife, dau. and co-heir of William Willington, of Barcheston, co. Warwick, of Edward Boughton, who d. 1 Edward VI., was created a Baronet 4 Aug. 1641. He m. Abigail, eldest dau. and co-heir of Henry Baker, Esq., and was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

II. Sir Edward, who m. twice (his wives were, Mary, dau. of Thomas Pope, Earl of Down; and Anne, dau. of Sir John Heydon, Knt., governor of the Bermudas), but having no issue, was s. in 1680, by his brother,

III. Sir William. This gentleman m. Mary, dau. of Hastings Ingram, Esq. of Little Woolford, co. Warwick; and dying 12 Aug. 1683, left (with three daus., Lucy-Anne, m. to John Parkes, Esq. of Eydon, co. Northampton; Catherine, m to William Smith, Esq of Polton, co. Warwick; and Abigail, m. to Edward Boughton, Esq. of Bilton) an only son,

Lineage.

The family of Newport, who derived their name from Newport in Shropshire, were settled at a very early period in that county, wherein they held a position of pre-eminence for more than three centuries. In the latter part of the 14th century we find them seated at High Ercall, in Shropshire, which they held in capite from the crown.

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was deceased in 1401, and his son,

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was sheriff of Shropshire 1403. Their descendant,

William Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, who was sheriff of Shropshire, 1472, m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. and co-heir of Sir John Burgh, Knt. of Mowthwy, who was descended from the ancient Lords of Powys and the Princes of South Wales; their son,

John Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was sheriff of Shropshire, 1491, and d. 1512. By his wife Alice, dau. of Sir Thomas Swynerton, Knt., he was father of

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, sheriff of Shropshire 1542, who m. Ann, dau. of Sir Robert Corbet, Knt. of Moreton Corbet, by whom he had an elder son,

Sir Richard Newport, Knt. of High Ercall, who was several times sheriff of Shropshire, and a Member of the Council of the Marches of Wales. He d. 1570, having m. Margaret, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Bromley, Knt., Lord Chief Justice of England; their eldest son,

Sir Francis Newport, Knt. of High Ercall, was also several times sheriff of Shropshire. He d. 1623, leaving issue by his wife, Beatrice, dau. of Rowland Lacon, Esq. of Willey, co. Salop, a son,

Sir Richard Newport, 1st Lord Newport, who was raised to the Peerage 14 Oct. 1642, by the title of Baron Newport, of High Ercall. He m. Rachel, dau. of John Leveson, of Haling, co. Kent, and sister of Sir Richard Leveson, Knt. of Trentham, co. Stafford, and d. 1650, leaving a son,

Francis, 2nd Lord Newport, P.C., b. 23 Feb. 1620, who represented the borough of Shrewsbury in the lifetime of his father, was, after the Restoration, made Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of Shropshire, and first Comptroller, and afterwards Treasurer of the Royal Household. On 11 March, 1674, he was advanced to the dignity of Viscount Newport, of Bradford, co. Salop, and by patent dated 11 May, 1694, was created Earl of Bradford. He m. 28 April, 1642, Lady Diana Russell, dau. of Francis, 4th Earl of Bedford, by whom (who d. 30 Jan. 1695) he had, with several daus., two sons, who survived him,

His lordship, by royal licence, dated Feb. 1880, assumed for himself and his sister the surnames of VERNEY-CAVE in lieu of their patronymic, and the arms of Cave quarterly with those of Verney.

Lineage.

SIR RICHARD BRAY, the descendant and representative of a Norman knight, William de Bray, is said by some to have been of the privy council to HENRY VI.; by others he is called the king's physician; the former is the more probable, as he was buried in Worcester Cathedral. He had two wives; by the 1st, Margaret, dau. of John Sandes, Esq. of Furnes Felles, in Lancashire, he had an only son, JOHN (Sir), whose only dau. and heir, Margaret, m. Sir William Sandys, Baron Sandys, of the Vine; by the 2nd, Joan, Sir Richard had two other sons. The elder was Sir Reginald Bray, K.G., prime minister to HENRY VII., for whom he built "HENRY VII.'s Chapel," Westminster, also the greater part of St. George's, Windsor. He lies buried in the Bray chapel at Windsor. Sir Reginald was instrumental in the advancement of HENRY VII. to the throne, and in arranging the marriage of the king with Elizabeth, dau. of EDWARD IV., and thus uniting the houses of York and Lancaster. The younger son of Sir Richard Bray was

JOHN BRAY, Esq., who was buried in the chancel of the church at Chelsea, and had (with a dau., the wife of Sir John Norris) three sons,

I. EDMUND (Sir), summoned to parliament as Baron Bray, 21st HENRY VIII., ancestor of the BARONS BRAYE. (In ancient documents the name is written both Bray and Braye.)
II. EDWARD (Sir), ancestor of the BRAYS of Shere, co. Surrey (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry).
III. Reginald, of Barrington, co. Gloucester, ancestor of the BRAYS, of Barrington.

The eldest son,

SIR EDMUND BRAYE, Knt. of Eaton Braye, co. Bedford, was summoned to parliament as a baron 3 Nov. 1529, Lord Braye m. Jane, dau. and heir of Sir R. Hallighwell, of Holwell, and dying 18 Oct. 1539, left issue,

I. JOHN, his heir.
I. ANNE BRAYE, m. to George Brooke, Lord Cobham. Her grandsons,

HENRY BROOKE, Lord Cobham, who d. in 1619, s. p., and GEORGE BROOKE, were both attainted of high treason (the latter was executed), and the attainder never having been reversed, the representation of this, the elder co heir, vested in the crown.

II. Elizabeth Braye, m. to Sir Ralph Verney, Knt. of Pendley and Middle Claydon, co. Bucks, and had issue, 1 Edward Verney, d. s. p. in 1558; 2 John Verney, d. s. p.; and 3 SIR EDMUND VERNEY, m. 1st, Frances, dau. of John Hastings, Esq., of Ilford, co. Oxford, but by her had no issue. Caithness, obtained from him a redeemable disposition o his whole estate and earldom, with the hereditary jurisdic tions and titles; providing for the assumption by him o the title of earl, when the right to the lands becam absolute, namely, in six years. Sir John had crown cor firmation of, and sasine on this disposition, and on th death of the granter, laid claim to the title of Earl of Caith ness as well as the lands, the dignity being also assumed b the late earl's heir male. The king, advised that Sir Joh had the legal right to the dignity (though in reality his tit to it was objectionable in more than one way), granted him new charter, 28 June, 1677, including both the lands and th title of Earl of Caithness; and he proceeded under sanction o the authorities to invade Caithness in order to enforce h right, a historical event commemorated in the well know song "The Campbells are Coming." Eventually Charles I became convinced of his error; and Sir John Campbel dropping the Caithness title, was on 13 Aug. 1681, create

De-Capell-Brooke, Sir Arthur-Richard, Bart., of Oakley, co. Northampton, B. A. Oxford, capt. 3rd and 4th batt. Northamptonshire regt., b. 12 Oct. 1869; s. his father as 5th bart. 1892.

Lineage.

The family of Brooke issued originally from the house of Latham, or Leighton, in Cheshire, from which, in the time of Stephen, three eminent branches sprang, viz., the Brookes of Cheshire; the Brookes, Lords Cobham; and the Brookes of Oakley.

William Broke, of Astwell, in the co. of Northampton (fourth in descent from Sir Nicholas Broke, lord of the manor of Chester Waver, co. Warwick, where he was buried in 1271), exchanged, in 1472, the manor of Astwell, and other lands, with Thomas Lovett, for the manors of Great Oakley and Rushton. He m the niece of Sir Thomas Billinge, lord-chief-justice of Edward IV., and had a son and heir,

John Broke, who m. 1st, Margaret Lovett, and it was in consequence of this marriage that the exchange of estates, mentioned above, took place. This John m. 2ndly, Isabel, dau. of Thomas Wake, of Blisworth, called the Great Wake, M.P. for the co. Northampton, and by her had a son and successor,

Thomas Broke, who m. the dau. of Giles Poulton, of Desborough, and was father of Thomas Broke, whose son, by Jane, his wife, dau. of Thomas Moore, Esq. of Bourton, was Arthur Broke, who m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Edward Watson, of Rockingham, and granddau. of Sir Edward Montague, of Boughton, chief justice temp. Henry VIII., by whom he had Edward, who settled in Ireland, and an elder son, his successor.

Mary, m. to Richard Supple, Esq., of Aghadoe, co. Cork, and had an only son, Richard-Brooke Supple, of whom presently.

Dorothy, m. to Thomas-Cecil Maunsell, Esq. of Thorpe Malsor, co. Northampton, and d. s. p.

Arthur Brooke, d. before his elder brother.

iii. Thomas, d. unm.

Mr. Brooke was s. by his eldest son,

Wheeler Brooke, Esq. of Great Oakley, who died a bachelor in 1762, and bequeathed his estates to the daus. of his deceased brother, which eventually devolved upon the only child of Mary, by her husband, Richard Supple, viz.,

I. Richard-Brooke Supple, Esq., F.R.S., who assumed, by sign-manual, in 1797, upon succeeding to the estate of Great Oakley, the surname of Brooke, in obedience to the testamentary injunction of his great-uncle; and he adopted at the same time, the original surname of his family, De-Capell, instead of Supple, also by royal licence. He m. 18 Aug. 1788, Mary, only dau. and heir of General R. Worge, and had by her (who d. 7 Oct. 1846),

i. Arthur, 2nd baronet.
ii. William, 3rd baronet.
i. Mary-Anne, d. 26 April, 1852.
ii. Sophia, m. 7 April, 1831, to William Milhouse, Esq. of Sketchley Hall, Hinckley, co. Leicester.
iii. Louisa, m. to the Rev. Henry-Berners-Shelley Harris, master of the Earl of Leicester's Hospital, Warwick, and d. 30 April, 1885, aged 85, leaving issue.
iv. Augusta, m. in 1835, to John Booth, Esq. of Glendon Hall, Northamptonshire, who d. 1849, leaving issue. Her eldest son is the present Richard Booth, Esq. of Glendon Hall. (See Burke's Landed Gentry.)

Mr. De-Capell Brooke was created a Baronet, 20 June, 1803. He was a bencher of the Inner Temple, and, for nearly thirty years, colonel of the Northamptonshire militia. He d. 27 Nov. 1829, and was s. by his elder son,

II. Sir Arthur-De-Capell Broke (he adopting the surname with a single o), who was b. 22 Oct. 1791, and m. 18 Dec. 1851, Elizabeth-Zilpah, widow of J.-J. Eyre, Esq. of Endcliffe, near Sheffield. Sir Arthur, who was a F.R.S., was well known in the literary world as the author of A Winter in the North Cape, and other interesting works of travels. He d. s. p. 6 Dec. 1858, and was s. by his brother,

III. Sir William De-Capell-Broke, barrister at-law, b. 12 June, 1801; m. 23 April, 1829, Hon. Catherine-Watson, youngest dau. of Lewis-Thomas, 2nd Lord Sondes, and by her (who d. 24 Nov. 1884, aged 82) had issue,

i. Richard-Lewis, 4th baronet.

Lineage.

SIR RICHARD LE SCOT, the undoubted ancestor of this family, was a person of great distinction in the reign of ALEXANDER III. of Scotland. He m. the dau. and heiress of Murthockstone of that ilk, by whom he obtained a considerable estate in Lanarkshire, and, as a feudal lord thereof, swore fealty to EDWARD I., of England, anno 1296. Upon his marriage, Sir Richard assumed the cognizance of Murthockstone, which was a bend azure, into his armorial bearings, disposing thereon the crescents and star, the arms of Scot, as since borne by the Dukes of Buccleuch. He d. in 1320; and from him lineally descended

SIR DAVID SCOT, of Branxholm, who sat in the parliament held by JAMES III. at Edinburgh, anno 1487, under the designation of "Dominus de Buccleuch," being the first of the family so designated. The grandson of this Sir David,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Branxholm and Buccleuch (son of David Scott, who d. v. p.), s. his grandfather in 1492. This laird, a brave and powerful baron, and warden of the west marches of Scotland, is celebrated by historians for deeds of valour and magnanimity during the minority of JAMES V., and for an abortive attempt to rescue that monarch from the control of the Earl of Angus; on which Sir Walter Scott has founded The Lay of the Last Minstrel. Soon after the king had assumed the management of his own affairs, he privately solicited the aid of Buccleuch, who, being apprised that JAMES, accompanied by Angus and a considerable retinue, was coming to Melross, raised about 1000 horse of his friends and followers to relieve the king. The adherents of Buccleuch and Angus came in sight near Melross, 18 July, 1526, and a sanguinary conflict ensued, but the earl was successful, after the fall of a number of men of rank on both sides, Sir Walter Scott himself being wounded and barely escaping from the field. He was afterwards distinguished at the battle of Pinkie, anno 1547; and eventually lost his life in the streets of Edinburgh, 1552, in an encounter with Sir Walter Kerr, of Cessford. Sir Walter m. 1st, Elizabeth Carmichael, of the Hyndford family, by whom he had two sons. He m. 2ndly, Janet, dau. of John Bethune, of Creich, "of Bethune's line of Picardie," and had two sons and three daus. The last wife of Sir Walter was a woman of masculine spirit, as appeared from her riding at the head of her clan after her husband's murder. Sir Walter Scott was s. by his grandson,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Buccleuch (son of William Scott and Grizel Betoun, his wife). This was a person of rare qualities, wise, true, stout, and modest. He signed the association in support of JAMES VI. in 1567, but subsequently turned to the party of the Queen, to whom he remained faithful, notwithstanding her extorted resignation of the crown, and her captivity in England. He m. Lady Margaret Douglas, eldest dau. of David, 7th Earl of Angus, and dying 17 April, 1574, was s. by his only son,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Buccleuch. This powerful chieftain, no way inferior to the bravest of his ancestors in courage and intrepidity, received the honour of knighthood from JAMES VI., by whom he was appointed Warden of the West Marches in 1590. Having subsequently carried on a predatory warfare against the English, and boldly rescued one of his attendants, KINMONT WILL, from the castle of Carlisle, he was delivered up as a hostage upon an adjustment of the feuds between the English and Scots. During his sojourn in England, family tradition states that he was brought into the presence of Queen ELIZABETH, who demanded, in her usual arbitrary manner, how he dared to engage in deeds so desperate and presumptuous? "What is it," answered the undaunted chieftain, "what is it that a man dares not do?" ELIZABETH, struck with this reply, said to a lord-in-waiting: "With ten thousand such men, our brother of Scotland might shake the firmest throne in Europe." Sir Walter was elevated to the peerage, 18 March, 1606, as Lord Scott of Buccleuch. His lordship afterwards, as a military commander, attained considerable renown in the Netherlands, under Maurice, Prince of Orange. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir William Kerr, of Cessford, and sister of Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburghe, and dying 15 Dec. 1611, was s. by his only son,

WALTER, 2nd baron, who was created 16 March, 1619, Lord Whitchester and Eskdale, and Earl of Buccleuch, with remainder to his heirs whatsoever. This nobleman was also a military character, and had the command of a regiment under the States of Holland, against the Spaniards. His lordship m. Lady Mary Hay, dau. of Francis, Earl of Erroll, and dying 20 Nov. 1633, was s. by his only surviving son,

FRANCIS, 2nd earl, b. 21 Dec. 1626, who m. Lady Margaret Leslie, sister of John, Duke of Rothes, and widow of Lord Balgonie; by whom he left, at his decease 25 Nov. 1651, two daus., and was s. by the elder,

MARY, Countess of Buccleuch, b. 31 Aug. 1637. Her ladyship m. Walter Scott, of Highchester, afterwards created Earl of Tarras for life: at the time of her marriage the countess was but eleven years of age, and Mr. Scott fourteen. The affair made a considerable noise, and became matter of discussion before the provincial Synod of Fife, in 1659, upon an accusation against the presbytery for granting a warrant for the marriage without proclamation. The presbytery was, however, absolved, because the order was grounded upon an act of the General Assembly, allowing such marriages in case of necessity, or fear of rape; and the lady's friends were apprehensive of her being carried off. The countess died in two years afterwards, 12 March, 1661, without issue, and was s. by her sister,

ANNE, 2nd countess, b. 11 Feb. 1651. This lady, who was esteemed the greatest heiress and finest woman of her time, m. 1st, 20 April, 1663, James, Duke of Monmouth, K.G., illegitimate son of CHARLES II., by Mrs. Lucy Walters, dau. of Richard Walters, Esq. of Haverfordwest, co. Pembroke. His grace, upon his marriage, assumed the name of Scott, and his grace and his duchess were created, 20 April, 1663, DUKE and DUCHESS OF BUCCLEUCH, Earl and Countess of Dalkeith, Baron and Baroness of Whitchester and Eskdale, Scotland, with remainder to their heirs male, in default of which to the heirs whatever descending from the duke's body, succeeding in the estate and Earldom of Buccleuch. His grace's honours, however (Scottish and English), were forfeited on his execution, 15 July, 1685; while those enjoyed by the Duchess in her own right (Dukedom of Buccleuch by creation, and Earldom of Buccleuch by inheritance) remained unaffected by the attainder. The issue of this union were JAMES, Earl of Dalkeith, and HENRY, created Earl of Deloraine, Viscount Hermitage, and Baron Scott, in 1706, which honours became extinct with the 4th earl, in 1807. The duchess m. 2ndly, 6 May, 1688, Charles, 3rd Lord Cornwallis. She d. 6 Feb. 1732, and was s. by her grandson,

FRANCIS, as 2nd duke (son of James, Earl of Dalkeith, by Henrietta his wife, 2nd dau. of Laurence Hyde, Earl of Rochester). His grace obtained a restoration of the Earldom of Doncaster and Barony of Scott of Tyndale, the English honours of his grandfather, the Duke of Monmouth, by act of parliament, in 1743. He m. 1st, 5 April, 1720, Lady Jane Douglas, eldest dau. of James, 2nd Duke of Queensberry, by whom (who d. 31 Aug. 1829) he had issue, Francis, Earl of Dalkeith, who, dying v. p., left, by his Countess, Caroline,* eldest dau. and co-heir of John, 2nd Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, a son HENRY, and a posthumous dau., Frances, m. to Archibald, Lord Douglas. The Duke of Buccleuch m. 2ndly, Sept. 1744, Miss Alice Powell; but by that lady had no issue. His grace d. 22 April, 1751, and was s. by his grandson,

HENRY, 3rd duke, K.G., and K.T.; b. 13 Sept. 1746. His grace m. 2 May, 1767, Elizabeth, dau. of George, Duke of Montagu, by whom (who d. 21 Nov. 1827) he had issue,

I. George-Scott, Earl of Dalkeith, b. 25 March, and d. 29 May, 1768.
II. CHARLES-WILLIAM-HENRY, Earl of Dalkeith.
III. Henry-James Scott-Montagu, who s. to the Barony of MONTAGU, upon the demise of his grandfather, the Duke of Montagu. His lordship, b. 16 Dec. 1776; m. 22 Nov. 1804, Jane-Margaret, dau. of Archibald, Lord Douglas, and by her (who d. 10 Jan. 1859) had issue.

1 Lucy-Elizabeth, m. in 1832, to Cospatrick-Alexander, Earl of Home, and d. 15 May, 1877.
2 Mary-Margaret, m. 1840, to Lieut.-Col. Frederick Clinton, who d. 9 Nov. 1870. She d. 30 July, 1885, aged 78.
3 Jane Caroline, d. unm. 16 June, 1846.
4 Caroline-Georgiana, m. 1836, the late Geo.-Wm. Hope, Esq., M.P., and has issue,

Lineage.

Buchan, one of the old Celtic maormordoms, afterwards earldoms of Scotland, was, early in the 13th century, carried by an heiress to the Comyn family, who siding against Bruce, forfeited their possessions and title. The earldom of Buchan was afterwards conferred on Alexander Stewart (the "Wolf of Badenoch"), son of Robert II., who d.s.p. 1394, and the Regent Albany bestowed it on his 2nd son, John Stewart, constable of France, who fell at Verneuil.

James Stewart, 2nd son of the Black Knight of Lorn and Queen Joan, of Beaufort was made Earl of Buchan and Lord Auchterhouse in 1469, with remainder to the heirs of his body. By his marriage with Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Alexander Ogilvy, of Auchterhouse, his family became hereditary sheriffs of Forfar. He was s. by his son, Alexander, 2nd Earl of Buchan, who m. 1st, before 20 May, 1491, Isabel Ogilvy, and 2ndly, before 1499, Margaret, dau. of William, 1st Lord Ruthven (afterwards wife of John Erskine, of Dun), and d. 1505, leaving issue by the second marriage,

John, 3rd Earl of Buchan, who m. Margaret, dau. of James Scrymgeour, of Dudhope, and had,

I. John, master of Buchan, fell at Pinkie, 1547; m. 1st, Mary, dau. of James, Earl of Moray, natural son of James IV.; s.p.; 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Walter Ogilvy, of Boyne, by whom he had a dau., Christian, of whom below.
II. James, m. Christian, dau. of John Strang, of Balcaskie, and had issue.

Christian, Countess of Buchan, s. her grandfather, m. Robert Douglas, 2nd son of Sir Robert Douglas, of Lochlevin, who became 4th Earl of Buchan in her right, and d. Oct. 1580. They had issue,

I. James, 5th earl.
I. Janet, m. 1st, Richard Douglas, brother of William Douglas, of Whittingham; 2ndly, Alexander Irvine, of Drum.
II. Elizabeth, m. Alexander Fraser, of Muchal.

James-Douglas, 5th Earl of Buchan, was retoured to his father, 1583, and to his mother, 1588, and d. 26 Aug. 1601, having m. Margaret, dau. of Walter, 1st Lord Ogilvy of Deskford (afterwards wife of Andrew, Lord Gray), and had an only child,

Mary, Countess of Buchan, who m. 1617, James Erskine, 2nd son of John, Earl of Mar, treasurer of Scotland, who was 6th Earl of Buchan in her right. On 22 March, 1617, they had a charter of earldom, in which the dignity was specified, to the countess and her husband in conjunct fee and liferent, and to the longest liver and heir male of the marriage, with remainder to the nearest heir male of Earl James. On 26 Nov. 1625, they had a new charter, also including the honours with the same limitation. The Countess of Buchan also, on retours obtained by her, got a decreet of the Court of Session of 28 July, 1628, giving her higher precedency than had been awarded her in 1606, when she was a minor and unrepresented. The countess d. in 1628, and the earl in 1640. They had issue, I. James, 7th Earl of Buchan; II. John, d.s.p.; I. Mary, m. Alexander, 2nd Lord Forbes, of Pitsligo; II. Margaret, m. Sir James Graham, son of John, 6th Earl of Menteith; III. Elizabeth. The Earl of Buchan m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Philip Knevet, of Buckenham, co. Norfolk, by whom he had a dau., Dorothy, m. to — Walker.

James Erskine, 7th Earl of Buchan, m. Marjory, dau. of William, 1st Earl of Dalhousie, and d. 1664, having had issue, I. William, 8th earl; I. Marjory, m. 1st, Simon Fraser, of Inveralochy; 2ndly, Charles, 4th Lord Fraser, to both of whom she had issue; II. Anne, m. James Canaries, D.D.; III. William Erskine, 8th Earl of Buchan, s. his father, 1664, and d. unm. 1695. The succession then opened under the charters of 1617 and 1625 to his next heir male,

David Erskine, 4th Lord Cardross, as 9th Earl of Buchan; b. 1672. He was a stranger in blood to the first four earls, and an account of his lineage is subjoined at the close of this article. Being abroad he did not take his place in parliament till 1698. He was made lord lieutenant of the counties of Stirling and Clackmannan, on the accession of George I., and was chosen a representative peer in 1715 to 1734. He m. 1st, 1697, Frances, dau. and heir of Henry Fairfax, of Hurst, co. Berks, by whom he had three sons, Henry-David, his successor; Fairfax, b. 8 Feb. 1712, m. Annabella Manning, d.s.p. 1735; George-Lewis, d. 1764; and two daus., Katherine, m. 1724, William Fraser, of Fraserfield (see Saltoun, L.), and d. 1733; and Frances, m. Colonel James Gardener, who fell at Prestonpans, 1745. He m. 2ndly, 15 Sept. 1743, Isabella, dau. of Sir William Blackett, Bart. of Wallington, co. Northumberland, and co-heiress of her brother, Sir William, but by her (who d. 14 May, 1763) had no issue. He d. 14 Oct. 1745, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

Henry-David, 10th earl, b. 17 April, 1710; m. 31 Jan. 1739, Agnes, 2nd dau. of Sir James Steuart, Bart. of Goodtrees, by whom (who d. 17 Dec. 1778) he had surviving issue,

I. David-Stewart, Lord Cardross, his successor.
II. Henry of Amondell, co. Linlithgow, b. 1 Nov. 1746, o.s., who was called to the Scottish bar in 1768, and soon attained that first-rate practice so justly the meed of his transcendent talents. He was appointed king's advocate in 1783, but resigned the office in the same year, on the change of administration. He was elected dean of the faculty of advocates in 1786, and appointed by the Whigs, in 1806, king's advocate, an office which he again relinquished on the retirement of his party from power. Mr. Erskine was distinguished by the amiability of his private character, the profundity of his legal knowledge, and the brilliancy of his wit. He m. 1st, 30 March, 1772, Christian, only child and heiress of George Fullerton, Esq. of Broughton Hall, by whom (who d. in 1804) he had issue,

Lineage.

The family of BURNARD was one of considerable importance and large possessions in Wiltshire and Bedfordshire during the two centuries following the Conquest: their ancestor appears in Domesday as mesne tenant of William de Ow, in the cos. of Bedford, Hants and Wilts. From them doubtless, sprang the Burnards or Burnetts, bearing the same arms, who appeared in the south of Scotland simultaneously with a number of English settlers in the 12th century. Down to the middle of the 14th century they owned Farningdown, co. Roxburgh, and they figure prominently among the benefactors to Melrose Abbey.

ALEXANDER BURNARD, one of that family who had been attached to the fortunes of Robert Bruce, obtained from that king, in 1324, several charters of lands in Aberdeenshire, forfeited by the Comyn family, including Killenach-Clerach, and other lands within the Forest of Drum, newly converted into a park. The keeping of the Forest, bestowed first on him, was afterwards given to William of Irvine, Alexander Burnard getting the two Cardneys in compensation. William Burnard had in 1318, a charter of lands in the forest of Drum, on the resignation of his father Symon. ROBERT intervened between him and John, who, in 1446, is designated "of Leys." His son, Alexander Burnet, of Leys, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Forbes, of Echt, and widow of Alexander Riach, and had (with a dau. Christian, m. in 1480 to Alexander Comyn, of Culter) a son,

BURTON.

Burton, Sir Charles-William-Cuffe, of Pollacton, co. Carlow, b. 13 Jan. 1823; late lieut. 1st dragoons; s. his cousin as 5th baronet, 17 May, 1842; m. 16 Dec. 1861, Georgiana-Mary, only dau. of David-Haliburton Dallas, Esq., and granddau. of Sir Thomas Dallas, G.C.B.

Lineage.

This family claims a common ancestor with the noble house of Conyngham, namely, Sir Edward Burton, co. York, who was created a Knight Banneret by Edward IV., after the battle of St. Albans, in 1460. From this gallant soldier lineally descended the brothers,

Francis and Thomas Burton, who settled in Ireland in 1610. The former dying s. p. the latter became the head of the Irish branch, and was s. by an only son,

Samuel, whose 3rd son,

Benjamin Burton, Esq., becoming an eminent banker in Dublin, was lord mayor of that city in 1706, and represented it in parliament from 1703 to 1723; he m. Grace, dau. of Robert Stratford, Esq. of Belan, co. Kildare, and had six sons, with as many daus., viz.,

BUTE.

Bute, Marquess of (Sir John-Patrick Crichton-Stuart, K.T., LL.D.), Earl of Windsor; Viscount Mountjoy, of the Isle of Wight; Baron Mount Stuart of Wortley, co. York; Baron Cardiff, of Castle Cardiff, all in Great Britain; Earl of Dumfries, Viscount Air, and Lord Crichton of Sanquhar and Cumnock; Earl of Bute, Viscount Kingarth, Lord Mountstuart, Cumra, and Inchmarnock, in Scotland; a Baronet of Nova Scotia; Knight Grand Cross of the Order of St. Gregory the Great; hereditary sheriff and coroner of the co. Bute, and hereditary keeper of Rothesay Castle, Lord Lieutenant of Buteshire; Lord Rector of St. Andrews University 1892; Mayor of Cardiff, 1891; b. 12 Sept. 1847; s. his father as 3rd marquess 1848; m. 16 April, 1872, the Hon. Gwendoline-Mary-Anne Fitz-Alan-Howard, eldest dau. of 1st Lord Howard of Glossop, and has issue,

I. John, Earl of Dumfries, b. 20 June, 1881.
II. Ninian-Edward, b. 15 May, 1883.
III. Colum-Edmund, b. 3 April, 1886.
I. Margaret, b. 24 Dec. 1875.

Lineage.

John Steuart, the founder of this family, was a son of King Robert II. There is a tradition that his mother's name was Leitch. About the year 1385, the king erected the islands of Bute, Arane, and Cumbrae, with them pertinents, into a county, and conferred the office of hereditary sheriff thereof on John Steuart, his son, with a considerable grant of land. This grant was subsequently confirmed by King ROBERT III., by charter, dated 11 Nov. 1400. He m. Jean, dau. of Sir John Semple, of Eliotstoun, and had issue, JAMES, his heir; William, ancestor of the Stewarts of Fennock; Robert; John; and Andrew, ancestor of the Stewarts of Rosland. The eldest son,

JAMES STEUART, sheriff of Bute, appears to have been born in 1399, and s. his father in 1449. He m. and had issue, 1 NINIAN, his heir; 2 James, of Kilcattan; 3 David, of Achavolik; and 4 John. The eldest son,

NINIAN STEUART, sheriff of Bute, b. in 1469, s. at his father's death, in 1477. He rebuilt the Donjon, or great tower of Rothesay Castle, by order of JAMES IV. He m. 1st, a dau. of the house of Campbell, and had by her, 1 JAMES, his heir; 2 Robert, ancestor of the Stewarts of Ambrismore: 3 William, who appears to have d. s. p.; and 4 Janet, m. to Ninian Bannatyne, of Kames, in Bute. Ninian Steuart, m. 2ndly, Janet, dau. of Constantine Dunlop, of that ilk, and by her had a son Archibald, ancestor of the Stewarts of Largilzane. He m. 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. of John Blair, of Blair, and by her had, Alexander, who d. s. p.; Ninian, of Nether Kilmory, Kildavanan, and Kilcattan, ancestor of the second family of Stewart of Kilcattan, of the Stewarts of Ascog, the Stewarts of Ballintoy, Antrim, and (probably) the Castlereagh family. The sheriff appears to have d. before 5 April, 1538, and was s. by his son,

JAMES STEUART, sheriff and chamberlain of Bute, who suffered much during the struggle between the Earl of Lennox and the regent, Earl of Arran. He m. 1st, Lady Grissell Campbell, by whom he does not appear to have had any issue; and 2ndly, Marion, dau. of John Fairlie, of that ilk, and relict of Thomas Boyd, of Linn, brother of Thomas, Lord Boyd. By her he had two sons, JOHN, his heir; and Robert, who d. s. p.; and one dau., m. to Alexander Stewart, of Kelspokes and Ballochmerton. James Steuart d. in 1570, and was s. by his son,

JOHN STEUART, of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute, who attended the parliament at Edinburgh, 20 Oct. 1579, as commissioner for Buteshire. He m. 1st, Mary, dau. of John Campbell, of Skipnish, and had by her a son, JOHN, his successor. He m. 2ndly, Fynewald, dau. of Sir James M'Donald, of Duniveg, Isla, and Glenns, but by her (who was widow of Dugal Campbell, of Auchinbreck) he had no child. He m. 3rdly, Jean, dau of John Blair, of that ilk, and by her had a son, James, of Ardinho; and a dau., Grissell, m. to Ninian Stewart, of Kilchattan. The sheriff d. in 1612, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN STUART, Knt. of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute who m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Robert Hepburn, of Fuird, by whom (who m. 2ndly, Sir Alexander Foulis, of Collington) he acquired the estate of Fuird, with several other lands in the co. Haddington, and was s. by his son,

SIR JAMES STUART, of Ardmoleish, sheriff of Bute, who was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1627; and adhering to the Royal cause during the civil wars, suffered considerably both by fines and sequestrations. Sir James m. in 1631, Grissell, dau. of Sir James Campbell, of Auchinbreck, and had, with other issue, DUGALD, his successor.

Robert, of Tillicoultry, co. Clackmannan, one of the lords of session, who was created a Baronet, 29 April, 1707. Sir Robert represented the co. Bute in parliament, and was one of the commissioners for the treaty of Union, which he steadily supported. He resigned his gown in favour of his nephew, Dugald Stuart, of Blair Hall, in 1709.

Sir James d. in 1662, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR DUGALD, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Ruthven, of Dunglass, and granddau., maternally, of Alexander, 1st Earl of Leven, by whom he had (besides daus.) two sons,

JAMES, his successor.

Dugald, of Blairhall, who having applied himself to the study of the law, became soon so celebrated that he was appointed successor to his uncle, Lord Tillicoultry, as a lord of session and justiciary, in 1709. Dugald Stuart, d. in 1712, leaving a high character for honour, integrity, and ability. He m. Mary, dau. and heiress of John Bruce, of Blairhall, co. Perth, and had a numerous family.

Sir Dugald d. in 1672, and was s. by his elder son,

SIR JAMES, who being of the privy council of ANNE, and one of the commissioners appointed to treat of a union with England, in 1702, which did not then take effect, was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, 14 April, in the following year, by the titles of Earl of Bute, Viscount Kingarth, and Lord Mount Stuart, Cumra, and Inchmarnock, to himself and to his heirs male whatever. In 1706, his lordship opposed the Union with all his might; and when he discovered that a majority of parliament was in favour of the measure, withdrew from the House, and retired to his country seat. He m. 1st, Agnes, eldest dau of Sir George Mackenzie, of Roschaugh, lord advocate temp. JAMES VII.; and 2ndly, Christian, dau. of William Dundas, Esq. of Kincavel, and dying 4 June, 1710, was s. by the only son of his first marriage,

JAMES, 2nd earl; who, after the death of his maternal uncle, and much litigation, s. to the estate of Roschaugh; representative peer 1715, lord-lieut. of co. Bute. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Archibald, 1st Duke of Argyll, and by her (who m. 2ndly, 19 Sept. 1731, Alexander Fraser, of Stricken, co. Aberdeen, a lord of session, and d. 9 Oct. 1736) had (besides daus.) two sons, viz.,

JOHN, his successor.

James, who s. to his great-grandfather, Sir George Mackenzie's landed property, and assumed the additional surname of MACKENZIE. This gentleman, the representative of different Scottish shires in parliament, from 1742 to 1784, was constituted keeper of the privy seal of Scotland, 1763, and sworn of the privy council. He m. his cousin, Lady Elizabeth Campbell, 4th dau. of John, 2nd Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, but had no surviving issue. Her ladyship d. in 1799, and Mr. Steuart-Mackenzie d. within nine months afterwards, of grief. Leaving no male issue, the succession to the extensive estate of the right hon. gentleman in Scotland fell to be regulated by an entail executed by Sir George Mackenzie, 1689. Notwithstanding that he was the first lawyer of the age, Sir George's settlements were so ambiguously worded, that his estates were claimed by the Hon. James-Archibald Stuart-Wortley, next brother of the Marquess of Bute, and Lord Herbert-Windsor Stuart, second son of the marquess. The judgment of the Court of Session in Scotland in favour of Mr. Wortley was appealed to, and affirmed by, the House of Lords, 4 March, 1803.

James, 2nd Earl of Bute, d. 28 Jan. 1723, and was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 3rd earl, K.G.; b. 25 May, 1713; m. 24 Aug. 1736, Mary, only dau. of Edward Wortley-Montagu, Esq. of Wortley, co. York, and great-granddau. of Edward, 1st Earl of Sandwich. Her ladyship was created, 4 April, 1761, Baroness Mount Stuart, of Wortley, Yorkshire, with remainder to her male issue by the Earl of Bute. She d. 6 Nov. 1794. They had issue to survive,

I. JOHN, 1st Marquess of Bute.

II. JAMES-ARCHIBALD, who, on inheriting the Wortley estates, at the decease of his mother, assumed the surname of WORTLEY. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir David Conyngham, Bart., and had, with other issue,

JAMES-ARCHIBALD STUART-WORTLEY, created Baron Wharncliffe. (See that title.)

III. Frederck, b. in Sept. 1751; d. 17 May, 1802.

IV. CHARLES (Sir), K.B.; b. in Jan. 1753, an officer of celebrity in the army, who attained the rank of lieut.-general, and was governor of the island of Minorca, which, amongst his other military services, he had reduced in 1798. He m. 19 April, 1788, Louisa, 2nd dau. and co-heiress (with her sister Albinia, Countess of Buckinghamshire) of Lord Vere Bertie, 3rd son of Robert, 1st Duke of Ancaster, and d. 25 May, 1801, leaving issue,

1 CHARLES (Sir), G.C.B., ambassador at the court of France, b. in 1779, who was created BARON STUART DE ROTHESAY, 22 Jan. 1828. He m. 6 Feb. 1816, Elizabeth-Margaret, 3rd dau. of Philip, 3rd Earl of Hardwicke and d. 6 Nov 1845, leaving by her (who d. 23 June, 1867) two daus., his co-heirs, viz.,

CHARLOTTE, m. 5 Sept. 1835, to Charles-John, Earl Canning, K.G., and d. at Calcutta 18 Nov. 1861.

LOUISA, m. 8 June, 1842, to Henry, 3rd Marquess of Waterford, K.P., who d. 1859. She d. 12 May, 1891.

2 John-James, capt. R.N., b. in 1782, m. 26 Sept. 1807, Albinia, eldest dau. of the Right Hon. John Sullivan, and by her (who m. 2ndly, the Rev. Marmaduke Thompson, and d. in 1827) he left at his decease, in 1811, an only son, Gen. Charles Stuart, of Hoburne, Christchurch, Hants, J.P., vice-lieutenant of Bute, col. 2nd batt. Duke of Cornwall's light infantry, b. 16 March, 1810; m. 1st, 4 Sept. 1839, the Hon. CAITHNESS.

CAITHNESS, EARL OF (Sir John - Sutherland Sinclair), and Lord Berriedale, in Scotland, Baronet of Nova Scotia, b. 17 Sept. 1857; s. his father as 17th earl, 1891.

Lineage.

The earldom of Caithness, originally embracing the northern part of Scotland from sea to sea, was, as far back as the 11th century, possessed by the Norse Earls of Orkney, who held the one earldom from the Scottish, the other from the Norwegian Crown. Early in the 13th century an outrage committed on the Bishop of Caithness led to the severance of Sutherland from the earldom of Caithness. Soon afterwards the earldom passed by female succession to a branch of the family of Gillebride, Earl of Angus, and later to the Earls of Strathern. In 1375 it was resigned to the Crown, and bestowed on David Stewart, eldest son by his second marriage of Robert II., whose dau., Countess Euphemia, resigned it in favour of her uncle, Walter Stewart, attainted in 1437. Sir George Crichton, of Cairnes, had a grant of the earldom in 1452, but resigned it to the Crown.

William Sinclair, or St. Clair, Earl of Orkney and Chancellor of Scotland (for whose paternal descent see Sinclair, Lord), had the earldom of Caithness bestowed on him on 28 Aug. 1455, in compensation of a claim which he had to the lordship of Nithsdale. Orkney having been surrendered to the Scottish Crown at the marriage of James III., he was induced to resign the earldom of Orkney to the King, getting in its place the castle of Ravenscraig in Fife, and adjoining lands. He lived in almost regal splendour at his castle of Rosslyn, in Lothian, and founded the collegiate church known as Rosslyn Chapel. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Archibald, 4th Earl of Douglas, and widow of John Stewart, Earl of Buchan, and of Sir Thomas Stewart, natural son of Alexander, Earl of Mar, by whom he had issue,

I William, ancestor of the Lords Sinclair (see that title).
I. Katherine, m. Alexander Stewart, Duke of Albany, son of James II., which marriage was dissolved 1478.

He m. 2ndly, Marjory, dau. of Alexander Sutherland, of Dunbeath, by whom he had (with daus., Eleanor, m. to John Stewart, Earl of Athole; Marian, m. to Sir John Houstoun of that ilk; Margaret, m. to David Boswell, of Balmuto; and Marjory, m. to Andrew, Master of Rothes), five sons,

II. William, his successor in the Earldom of Caithness.
III. Sir Oliver, of Rosslyn, ancestor of the Sinclairs of Rosslyn.
IV. Sir David, of Swinbrugh.
V. Robert.
VI. John, Bishop nominate of Caithness.

In supersession of the son by the first marriage, the earldom passed to William, 2nd Earl of Caithness, eldest son of the second marriage, who had obtained a crown charter of the earldom on his father's resignation in 1476. By Mary his wife, dau. of Sir William Keith, of Inverugie, he had,

I. John, his successor.
II. Alexander Sinclair, of Dunbeath and Stemster, who, by Elizabeth Innes, his wife, had two sons, William and Oliver, and a dau., Isabel, m. to Gilbert Gordon, of Gorty. His son William was twice married, and had five sons, William, of Stemster; Richard, of Brims; George; Henry, of Brabster; and David, of Thura. The male issue of this line seems to be extinct.

The 2nd earl fell at Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, and was s. by his son,

John, 3rd earl, who m. before 1527, Elizabeth, dau. of William Sutherland, of Duffus, and had issue, William, d. v. p.; and George, his successor. He was killed, 18 May, 1529, in the course of an unsuccessful expedition to recover Orkney. His son,

George, 4th earl, was justiciary of Caithness, and one of the assize who sat on the trial of Bothwell, in 1567. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, 2nd Earl of Montrose, and had issue,

I. John, Master of Caithness, who on his father's resignation, obtained in 1543 a charter of the earldom, with remainder to heirs male. He m. Jean, dau. of Patrick 3rd Earl of Bothwell, and widow of John Stewart, Prior of Coldingham, natural son of James V. and d. v. p. 1577, having had (with a dau., Agnes) three sons,

Glenorchy had crown confirmation of, and sasine on, this disposition. On the death of Earl George, Glenorchy (who had m. his widow), laid claim to dignity as well as lands, while the heir male, George Sinclair of Keiss, also assumed the title. The King, advised that the title belonged of right to Campbell (whose status was really more than questionable) granted him a new charter, including both estates and title; and he endeavoured, under sanction of the authorities, to make good his right by an armed invasion of Caithness. Eventually Charles II. became convinced of his error, and in 1680, Glenorchy, created Earl of Breadalbane and Holland, relinquished his claim to the earldom of Caithness. The heir-male,

CAMDEN.

CAMDEN, MARQUESS (John-Charles Pratt), Earl Camden; Earl of Brecknock, Viscount Bayham, of Bayham Abbey, co. Sussex, and Baron Camden, of Camden Place, co. Kent, D.L. co. Sussex, lieut. West Kent yeo. cav., late lieut. 3rd batt. R. Sussex regt., 9 Feb. 1872; s. his father as 4th marquess 1872.

Lineage.

The Pratts have been of consideration in different parts of England, as well as in Ireland, from a very remote period, some of them of knightly degree; and those of Berkshire were baronets. The family of which we are now treating was settled at Careswell Priory, co. Devon, about the middle of ELIZABETH'S reign (Brydges's Collins, vol. 5, 264), but the estate was lost by

RICHARD PRATT, during the civil wars, who was compelled, by the difficulties in which those disastrous times had involved him, to dispose of his paternal inheritance. His Richard Pratt was grandfather of

LORD-CHIEF-JUSTICE SIR JOHN PRATT, Knt., who represented the borough of Midhurst in parliament, from 1700 until his elevation to the chief justice of the court of King's Bench, 26 Oct. 1714. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of the Rev. Henry Gregory, rector of Middleton Stoney, co. Stafford, by whom he had two surviving sons and four daus. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of the Rev. Hugh Wilson, and had four sons and three daus. His lordship d. 18 Feb. 1724, and was s. by the eldest son of his 1st marriage,

JOHN PRATT, Esq. of The Wilderness, co. Kent, M.P.; who m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Geoffrey Jeffreys, Knt. of Brecknock Priory, co. Brecknock, by whom he had, with a dau. (who d. in 1807), a son, JOHN, of Bayham Abbey, co. Sussex; who d. s. p. in 1797, bequeathing his estates to the Marquess Camden.

Mr. Pratt m. 2ndly, Dorothy, dau. of the Hon. Robert Tracy, of Coscomb, co. Gloucester, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas, and left a son, ROBERT, M.P. of Coscomb, a master in Chancery, who d. s. p. in 1775.

The third son, by his 2nd marriage, of the Lord-Chief-Justice Pratt,

CHARLES PRATT, Esq., a great lawyer and statesman, 1713, called to the bar in 1738, was in 1757 appointed attorney-general, and elected M.P. for Downton. He was chosen recorder of Bath in 1759. On the 23 Jan. 1762, he was constituted chief-justice of the court of Common Pleas, and, 17 July, 1765, raised to the peerage, by the title of Lord Camden, of Camden Place, co. Kent. His lordship was subsequently, upon the resignation of the Earl of Northington, in 1766, appointed LORD-HIGH-CHANCELLOR of Great Britain; in 1784, he was constituted lord-president of the council; and 13 May, 1786, advanced to a viscounty and earldom, by the titles of Viscount Bayham and Earl Camden. Lord Camden, while presiding in the court of Common Pleas, acquired high reputation for independence, legal knowledge, and impartiality. He m. 4 Oct. 1749, Elizabeth, dau. and sole heir of Nicholas Jeffreys, Esq. of The Priory, co. Brecknock, by whom (who d. 10 Dec. 1779) he had issue,

He m. 2ndly, Oct. 1893, Annie-Augusta, dau. of Robert-Henry Mitford, Esq., of Weston Lodge, Hampstead, and widow of Walter James, Esq., of Elvaston Hall Ryton-on-Tyne.

Lineage.

SIR JOHN CAMPBELL, of Lawers, co. Perth, grandson of John Campbell, of Lawers, younger son of Sir Colin Campbell, first o Glenorchy, m. his cousin Beatrix, dau. of Sir Colin Campbell, o Glenorchy, and had three sons,

I. Sir James Campbell, of Lawers, father of John, Earl o Loudoun. Lord High Chancellor of Scotland; he is represented as heir general by the Earl of Loudoun and as heir male by Sir James Campbell, of Aberuchill, Bart.
II. COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill.
III. Archibald Campbell, Prior of Strathfillan.

In 1594, Sir John acquired Aberuchill, and other lands, from the family of Moray, of Abercairny, and the following year resigned them in favour of his second son,

COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill, who had a crown charter o confirmation in that estate, 12 July, 1596, and acquired Craiginch, Leonards, and other lands. In 1612, Archibald Earl of Argyll, justice general of Scotland, granted a commission to "my lovit Colin Campbell, of Aberuchill," to apprehend or pursue to the death all persons of "that most unhappie and barbarous raice of the name of M'Gregor," His Majesty's rebels. An Act of parliament, 1617, against the clan Gregor, mentions depredations committed by them on the estate of Aberuchill. Colin Campbell had issue by his wife who appears to have been a dau. of the family of Colville,

I. JAMES.
II. John of Foordie, a member of the committee of war 1647, d. in or before 1683, leaving issue, Mary, m. Henry Stewart, advocate, 4th son of Sir William Stewart, of Grandtally; from this marriage descends Sir Archibald-D. Stewart Bart.

I. COLIN CAMPBELL, of Aberuchill, then a minor, who became a lawyer and politician of note, and held the various high appointments of sheriff depute of Argyllshire 1668, senator of the college of justice under the title of Lord Aberuchill 1689; lord of justiciary and privy councillor 1690. He represented the co. of Perth in parliament from 1690 to 1702. In 1669 Sir Colin acquired the barony of Kilbryde, with its fine old castle, the seat of the earls of Menteith, still the property of his representative. A crown charter a few months later erected all his lands into one free barony, holding direct of the king, to be called Aberuchill, and made Inneruchill into a burgh of barony. Lord Aberuchill suffered losses amounting to £17,201 Scots from the Highland army, under Lord Dundee, and had an Act of parliament granting him compensation which he appears never to have received. The precise date at which the baronetcy was conferred cannot now be ascertained, as the patent is lost, and was, like many others, i ur of gentlemen on whom the baronetcy of Nova Scotia conferred about this period, never registered : it appears, ever, to have been between 23 Jan. 1667, and 16 May, 1668, the baronet's arms appear no less than four times from 2 to 1703 in the Lyon Register, in each instance with the and the Nova Scotia badge. Lineage.

Sir Donald Campbell, of Ardnamurchan, Dean of Lismore, natural son of Sir John Campbell, Knt. of Calder, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 14 June, 1628, with remainder to his heirs male whomsoever. He m. 1st, Jane, dau. of Colin, 6th Earl of Argyll; 2ndly, Anne, natural dau. of same earl, and had issue, a son, John, who predeceased him, and two daus., Katherine, m. to John McDougal, of Bayray, and afterwards to James Campbell, of Kilbrandan, s. p.; and Beatrix, m. to Archibald Campbell, of Dunstaffnage, leaving issue. On Sir Donald's death, s. p. 1651, his estate of Ardnamurchan reverted to the Duke of Argyll, but Airds passed to his nephew George, lawful son of Sir John Campbell, of Calder, and it is asserted that the investitures include a resignation and regrant of the baronetcy to him and his heirs male. George Campbell, however, does not appear to have assumed the baronetcy, nor did his successors in the direct line, John, Alexander, and Donald Campbell, of Airds. The last-mentioned,

Donald Campbell, of Airds, obtained a charter under the great seal, as heir to his predecessor and father, and m. Jane, dau. of Archibald Campbell, Esq. of Stonefield, by whom he had three daus., Jane, Margaret, Elizabeth, and an only son,

Sir John Campbell, b. 15 March, 1767, who assumed the title in 1804. He m. 27 July, 1803, Margaret Maxwell, 6th dau. of John Campbell, Esq. of Lochend, and d. 7 Nov. 1834, leaving by her (who d. 19 Aug. 1865) an only child,

Sir John, b. 27 Nov. 1807; m. 21 Nov. 1833, Hannah-Elizabeth, dau. of James Macleod, Esq. of Rasay (see Burke's Landed Gentry), and had issue,

I. John-William, present baronet.

I. JOHN-VALENTINE, b. 6 Feb. 1892.

Lineage.

The name of Carden is local, being derived from the township of Cawarden, Carwarden, or Carden, which lies about eleven miles S.S.E. from Chester. The elder branch of the family terminating in co-heiresses, the manor of Over-Carden was carried by marriage into the family of Felton. A branch had been settled in Kent, where it appears it was for several generations possessed of the manor of Hodiford; but that estate was alienated temp. ELIZABETH, by John Carden, to the Cobbes, when there is reason to believe that the Cardens of Kent removed into Lincolnshire, and that from them diverged the Irish branch.

JOHN CARDEN, Esq., who settled at Templemore, co. Tipperary, about the year 1650, m. Priscilla Kent, by whom he had two sons, JOHN, his successor; and William, of Lismore, who m. Gertrude, dau. of Warburton, of Garryhinch, Queen's Co. and had issue. CARMICHAEL.

CARMICHAEL, SIR JAMES-MORSE, Bart., of Nutwood, Surrey, b. 20 July, 1844; M.P. for St. Rollox div. Glasgow, 1892-1895. Sir James, as heir male of the house of Carmichael, claims the dormant titles of Earl of Hyndford, Viscount Inglisberry and Nemphlar, and Lord Carmichael of Carmichael, 1701, and Lord Carmichael, 1647, with the baronetcy (Nova Scotia) of 1627 (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerages). Sir James Carmichael, who was educated at Radley, s. his father as 3rd bart. 1883, and was Private Secretary to the Right Hon. Hugh Childers, Chancellor of the Exchequer, 1882 to 1885.

Lineage.

This ancient surname is territorial, and was assumed by the family as lords of the Barony of Carmichael, in the Upper Ward of Lanarkshire.

SIR JOHN DE CARMYCHEL had charters between 1386 and 1388, from James, Earl of Douglas and Mar, of the barony of Carmichael, and circa 1385, from his cousin, Sir James Sandilands of Calder (son-in-law of King ROBERT II.), of a portion of the barony of Wiston, confirmed by ROBERT II. 8 May, 1387 (Cleghorn Ch. Chest). He m. a dau. of Sir Andrew Wardlaw of Torrie (sister of Henry Wardlaw, Bishop of St. Andrews), and by her had two sons, WILLIAM, who s. his father in the lands of Carmichael and Wiston. The last of the eldest line who possessed Carmichael, Sir John of that ilk, heir, 1619, of his father, Sir Hugh, Ambassador to Denmark, and, 1627, of his grandfather, Sir John, Warden of the Middle Marches, d. before 17 July, 1649. The estates had passed in his lifetime to Sir James, afterwards 1st Lord Carmichael, representative of the Carmichaels of Hyndford, which family became extinct on the death, in 1817, of Andrew, 6th Earl of Hyndford, 7th Lord Carmichael, and 7th bart.

JOHN.

The 2nd son,

JOHN CARMICHAEL, was provost and constable of St. Andrews, and obtained the lands of Greenhill (1417) and Meadowflat (1420), in Lanarkshire, under charters from Sir James Sandilands of Calder, and Sir John Lindsay of Covington. He had two sons, WILLIAM, heritable captain of the Castle of Crawford, ancestor of the Carmichaels of Meadowflat, heritable baillies of the barony of Crawfordmuir, extinct in the male line before 18 April, 1638, when Margaret Carmichael was served heir of Sir John Carmichael of Meadowflat, Knt., her brother, and 24 May, 1638, when she was heir of her father, John, of Meadowflat, who, in 1595, had been retoured heir to his father, grandfather, and great-grandfather in the custody of the castle of Crawford Douglas and office of baillie of the barony thereof.

JOHN.

The 2nd son,

JOHN CARMICHAEL, witness, as "Johannes Carmychell de Balmathie," 20 Dec. 1477, to a charter of Archibald, 5th Earl of Angus (Reg. Mag. Sig.), m. circa 1477, Isabel, dau. of Sir John Sibbald of Balgonie, and widow of George, 4th Earl of Angus, mother (by her first husband) of the celebrated Archibald, 5th Earl of Angus (called "Bell the Cat"), and ancestress of Henry, Lord Darnley. "So that of this ancient family of Sibbald of Balgonie," says Nisbet, "not only the Royal Family of Great Britain are descended, but most of all the crowned heads in Europe who have intermarried with that serene house." By this alliance John Carmichael acquired the lands of Balmedie, Craigpottie, and Dron, in the cos. of Fife and Perth, together with the office of heritable baillie of the regality of Abernethy, which was held by the Carmichaels of Balmedie until the abolition of heritable jurisdictions in 1748. By the Countess of Angus (who d. ante 21 Feb. 1497, Balmedie Ch. Chest), John Carmichael (who d. before 20 Feb. 1489-90) had two sons, styled in the Acts of the Lords Auditors, and in charters of Earl Archibald, "brothers to the Earl of Angus," viz., PETER, of Craigpottie, sheriff of Forfar (styled "Avunculus" by Bishop Gawain Douglas, in his will) to whom, and to Euphemia Wemyss, his spouse, charters (Gask Ch. Chest) were granted, 1528, of the lands of Craigpottie, Earlsmuir, Dron, &c., by Archibald, Earl of Angus, and John Balmanno of that ilk, and

JAMES CARMICHAEL of Balmedie, who was sheriff of Lanarkshire 1495-9, with William Carmichael of that ilk, and James Symontoun. He m. Elizabeth, heiress of Folkart of Folkarton, co. Lanark, to whom the lands of Folkarton were confirmed, 20 Oct. 1495, by Robert, Abbot of Kelso (as they had been confirmed to her ancestor, Richard, son of Solph of Folcardistun, by Abbot Henry, circa 1208), and had,

JAMES CARMICHAEL, who m. Margaret, dau. of Kincraigie of that ilk, and had two sons,

Peter Carmichael of Balmedie, forfeited, 1546, with Norman Leslie, for participation in the capture of the Castle of St. Andrews, and slaughter of Cardinal Beaton. He was afterwards in the galleys with John Knox, and was imprisoned in Mont St. Michel with the Master of Rothes, Kirkcaldy of Grange, and others, but escaped with Grange, disguised as a professional mendicant, returned to Scotland, and d. s. p. m. He had Ch., 1542, of the lands of Whelphill, Lanarkshire, which had belonged to his late father (Reg. Sec. Sig.).

Lineage.

THOMAS DE DALZELL was one of the great barons who swore fealty to King EDWARD I. in 1296, and one of the worthy patriots that joined ROBERT BRUCE.

SIR ROBERT DE DALZELL, Knt., obtained from King DAVID II. grants of the serjeantship of Lanark, on the resignation of Andrew Starheved, and of the lands of Croykstoune, co. Peebles. He had from the same monarch a charter, "dilecto et fideli nostro Roberto de Dalzell militi, pro homagio et survicio suo, omnes terras nostras de Selkyrk, cum pertinenciis, exceptis annuis redditibus nostris et firmis nostris de burgo nostro de Selkyrk," to him and the legitimate heirs male of his body, 15 May, 1365. He was one of the Scottish barons who were surety to HACO, King of Norway, that Henry Sinclair, Earl of Orkney, should faithfully govern the islands of Orkney. In 1380, he was sent over to Norway by the said earl, and d. the same year, immediately after his return.

SIR WILLIAM DE DALZELL, a gallant knight, obtained from King DAVID II., 13 Aug. 1364, a grant of the fee of five pounds sterling per annum as serjeant of Lanark, either out of Sheriff Court or the Justice-air held there. In 1388, Sir William de Dalzell lost an eye at the battle of Otterburn, and, in 1390, accompanied Sir David Lindsay, of Glenesk (afterwards Earl of Crawford) to the famous tournament at London. He recovered the estate of his ancestors, as "William de Dalzell, dominus ejusdem," and is witness to a charter of Johanna de Keith, Lady of Gallystoun, to her son, Andrew de Hamyltoun, 11 Dec. 1406. His elder son,

GEORGE DE DALZELL, obtained, on the resignation of James Sandilands, brother-in-law of King ROBERT III., a charter of the barony of Dalzell, in the county of Lanark, to him and the heirs male of his body, which failing, to the heirs male of his father Sir William de Dalzell, 5 July, 1395. He d. s. p. before 1400, and was s. by his brother,

SIR JOHN DE DALZELL, who had a letter of safe-conduct to pass into England, with four other knights, and sixty horse in their train, to treat about national business, 24 July, 1392. He had a charter of the lands of Kinmouth, Bouchtains, and half of Clune, in the county of Banff, from King ROBERT III., on the resignation of Alexander Keith. The same monarch granted to him St. Leonard's Hospital, near Lanark, with the whole lands and revenues thereto belonging, upon condition that he and his heirs should provide a qualified person to celebrate three masses once in every seven years, for the salvation of the souls of his Majesty, Annabella his queen, and all their children for ever. The charter is dated 3 June, 1400, with remainder to Walter, Adam, and Robert de Dalzell, his sons, and the heirs male of their bodies respectively; and is confirmed by King JAMES II., 19 Feb. 1449-50, by which time Sir John Dalzell was dead, he being designed "quondam" in the confirmation.

WALTER DE DALZELL, the eldest son, was designed "of Carlourie."

ADAM DE DALZELL, the 2nd son, is designed "of Eliotstoun," in a charter of 1426.

ROBERT DE DALZELL is designed "of Dalzell," in a charter to Walter Graham, of Walaystoun, 31 Dec. 1450.

PETER DE DALZELL made a resignation of St. Leonard's Hospital, near Lanark, in favour of John Stewart, of Craigie, who obtained a charter thereof 21 April, 1465.

ROBERT DALZELL, of that ilk, appears on record 1484-1490, and on or before 1495 was s. by his son, WILLIAM DALZELL, of that ilk, who was slain in a skirmish between Lords Maxwell and Crighton, in 1508.

V. Emily, b. 27 Dec. 1868.
VI. Eva, b. 12 May, 1874.

Lineage.

The antiquity of this family in Scotland is attested by the fact that RAINALDUS DE KETHCART appears a subscribing witness to a grant by Alan, the son of Walter Dapifer Regis, of the patronage of the church of Cathcart to the monastery of Paisley, in the year 1178.

SIR ALAN CATHCART, Knt., was at the battle of Loudoun Hill in 1307, and is thus recorded:—

> "A knight that then was in his rout,
> Worthy and witht, stalward and stout,
> Courteous and fair, and of good fame,
> Sir Alan Cathcart was his name."

Lord Hailes observes, in reference to these lines, that it is pleasant to trace a family likeness in an ancient picture. Sir Alan m. a sister of Sir Duncan Wallace, of Sundrum, and was s. by his son,

ALAN DE KATHKERT, whose great-grandson,

SIR ALAN CATHCART, Knt. was made a Lord of Parliament as Lord Cathcart about 1460. His lordship, who was warden of the West Marches, m. Janet Maxwell, and was s. some time before 12 Aug. 1499, by his grandson.

Constance-Elizabeth, m. 10 Feb. 1880, Uchter-John-Mark, 5th Earl of Ranfurly.

Lineage.

This noble family springs from the co. of Oxford. In the reign of Elizabeth,

Sir Toby Caulfeild (bapt. at Great Milton, near Oxford, 2 Dec. 1565, the son of Alexander Caulfeild, of Great Milton), a distinguished and gallant soldier, was employed by her majesty in Ireland, against the formidable O'Neill, Earl of Tyrone. In 1615, Sir Toby was appointed one of the council for the province of Munster; and, the next year, joined in commission with the Lord Deputy St. John and others, for parcelling out the escheated lands in Ulster, to such British undertakers as were named in the several tables of assignation. In these employments, the King (James I.) found him so faithful, diligent, and prudent, that his majesty deemed him highly deserving the peerage of Ireland, and accordingly (by patent, which stated that he was "generosâ et per antiquâ stirpe oriundus") created him, 22 Dec. 1620, Lord Caulfeild, Baron Charlemont, with limitation of the honour to his nephew, Sir William Caulfeild, Knt., son of George Caulfeild, Esq.. M.P., by Martha his wife, dau. of Richard Taverner, of Wood Eaton. His lordship d. a bachelor, 17 Aug. 1627, and was s. by the said

Sir William Caulfeild, as 2nd baron Charlemont. This nobleman took his seat in parliament, 4 Nov. 1634, after the lord chancellor had moved to know the pleasure of the House, whether he should be admitted to this place, having brought neither writ of summons nor patent; whereupon it was resolved that his lordship should be admitted, inasmuch as they were all satisfied that he was a lord of parliament. His lordship m. Mary, dau. of Sir John King, Knt. (ancestor of the Earls of Kingston), by whom (who d. 1663) he had seven sons and three daus. Lord Charlemont was s. at his decease, in 1640, by his eldest son,

Toby, 3rd baron, who also s. the late lord as governor of the fort of Charlemont, and there resided, with his company of foot, in garrison. This fort was a place of considerable strength and importance during the rebellion of 1641; but his lordship suffered himself to be surprised, 22 Oct. in that year; and being made prisoner, with his whole family, was subsequently put to death by the orders, it is said, of Sir Phelim O'Neile. This unfortunate nobleman dying unm., was s. by his brother,

Robert, 4th baron, who d. a few months afterwards, from the effects of an over-dose of opium, when the barony devolved upon his brother,

William, 5th baron. This nobleman apprehended Sir Phelim O'Neile, and had him executed for the murder of his brother. His lordship having filled, after the Restoration, several high and confidential situations, was advanced to a viscounty, as Viscount Charlemont, 8 Oct. 1665. He m. Sarah, 2nd dau. of Charles, Viscount Drogheda, by whom he had four sons and three daus., of whom,

CHICHESTER.

CHICHESTER, EARL OF (Sir Walter-John Pelham), Baron Pelham, of Stanmer, co. Sussex, and a Baronet, D.L. for Kent and city and county of Canterbury, M.P. for Lewes, 1865-74, M.A., b. 22 Sept. 1838; s. his father as 4th earl, 1886; m. 18 June, 1861, Elizabeth-Mary, only dau. of the Hon. Sir John-Duncan Bligh, K.C.B.

Lineage.

The surname of Pelham was assumed from a lordship in Hertfordshire. This lordship of Pelham is recorded to be a part of the possessions of WALTER DE PELHAM, in the 21st of EDWARD I., and it is believed that his ancestors held it prior to the Conquest. From the earliest period it is certain that the family enjoyed very high consideration; and its members have, in different reigns, distinguished themselves as warriors and statesmen.

SIR JOHN DE PELHAM, a gallant soldier in the martial reign of EDWARD III., shared in the glory of Poictiers, and had the honour of participating personally in the capture of the French king, JOHN, for which exploit he had as a badge of honour, the Buckle of a Belt, which was sometimes used by his descendants as a seal-manual, and at others, on each side, a cage, being an emblem of the captivity of the French monarch, and was therefore borne for a crest, as in those times customary. Sir John had certain lands and houses in Winchelsea, in marriage with Joan, dau. of Vincent Herbert, alias Finch, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN PELHAM, K.B., M.P., constable of Pevensey Castle. This eminent person represented the co. of Sussex in parliament, and enjoyed great influence at the court of HENRY IV. From Sir John, we pass to his lineal descendant.

SIR WILLIAM PELHAM,* who m. 1st, Mary, dau. of Sir Richard Carew, of Beddington, co. Surrey, and by that lady had two sons and a dau. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of William, Lord Sandys of The Vine, lord chamberlain to HENRY VIII., and had by her,

William (Sir), ancestor of the Lords Yarborough.
Edward, lord chief baron of the Exchequer in Ireland.

Sir William was s. by his eldest son,

SIR NICHOLAS PELHAM, M.P. for the co. Sussex. This gentleman m. Anne, dau. of John Sackville, Esq., and had, with other issue,

JOHN, his successor.
Thomas, who s. his nephew in the estates and representation of the family.

Sir Nicholas d. in 1560, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN PELHAM, M.P. for the co. of Sussex, who m. Judith, dau. of Oliver, Lord St. John, of Bletshoe; and dying 13 Oct. 1580, was s. by his only child,

OLIVER PELHAM, who d. in four years afterwards, when the estates reverted to his uncle,

I. THOMAS PELHAM, Esq., who represented the co. of Sussex, in the 28th year of ELIZABETH; was sheriff of that shire and Surrey in the 31st year of the same sovereign; and was amongst the first raised to the rank of Baronet, on the institution of the order by JAMES I., 22 May, 1611. Sir Thomas m. Mary, dau. of Sir Thomas Walsingham, of Scadbury, co. Kent, and niece to the celebrated Secretary Walsingham; by her he had one dau., and one son, his successor at his decease, 2 Dec. 1624,

II. SIR THOMAS, M.P. for the co. of Sussex, who m. 1st, Mary, 3rd dau. and co-heir of Sir Roger Wilbraham, Knt., by whom he had JOHN, his successor, and other issue. He m. 2ndly, Judith Shirley, but by that lady had no surviving issue; and 3rdly, Margaret, dau. of Sir Henry Vane, Knt. of Fairlawn, in Kent, by whom he had several children, of whom the eldest surviving son, Sir Nicholas Pelham, M.P., was ancestor of the family of CRESSETT PELHAM, of Crowhurst, Sussex. Sir Thomas d. in 1654, and was s. by his eldest son,

III. SIR JOHN, M.P. for the co. Sussex; who m. in 1647, the Lady Lucy Sidney, 2nd dau. of Robert, 2nd Earl of Leicester, and had three sons and two daus.; of the former,

THOMAS, s. to the title. John, d. unm.
Henry, clerk of the Pells in the Exchequer; m. Frances, dau. and co-heir of John Byne, Esq. of Sussex; and dying in 1721, left (with four daus., Elizabeth, m. to Thomas Pelham, Esq. of Catsfield; Grace, m. to William Poole, Esq.; Frances, m. to Sir Francis Poole; Lucy, m. to Talbot, Earl of Sussex), a son and successor,

HENRY, of Stanmer, who was s. by his brother,
THOMAS, who m. Annetta, dau. of Thomas Bridges, Esq., and left a son,

THOMAS, who s. the Duke of Newcastle as Lord Pelham of Stanmer.

Sir John d. in Jan. 1792-3, and was s. by his eldest son,

* From Sir William's uncle, ANTHONY PELHAM, of Buxsted, descended the PELHAMS of Swinshead, and the PELHAMS of Compton Valence, now represented by the THISTLETHWAYTES of Hampshire.

Sir Thomas, member of all the parliaments during the reigns of Charles II. and of James II, and of the convention-parliament, wherein he promoted the election of William and Mary to the crown of England; in whose subsequent reign Sir Thomas filled several high official employments, and in a few years after the accession of Anne, 29 Dec. 1706, was elevated to the peerage by the title of Lord Pelham, Baron Pelham, of Laughton, co. Sussex. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir William Jones, attorney-general to Charles II., and by that lady had two daus. He m. 2ndly, Lady Grace Holles, dau. of Gilbert, Earl of Clare, and sister of John, Duke of Newcastle, by whom he had, with five daus., two sons, viz.,

Thomas, his successor.

Henry, an eminent statesman, who filled the office of Secretary at War in 1725, and was then sworn of the privy council. In 1743, he was constituted First Commissioner of the Treasury, and the same year was appointed Chancellor of the Exchequer. He was likewise constituted during the absence of the King beyond the seas, in 1740, 1743, 1745, 1750, and 1752, one of the lords justices. Mr. Pelham m. in 1726, Catherine, dau. of John Manners, Duke of Rutland; and d. in 1754, leaving four surviving daus., of whom,

Catherine, the eldest, m. Henry Clinton, Earl of Lincoln; who s. as 2nd Duke of Newcastle (see that title).

Grace, the third, m. Lewis Monson Watson, 1st Lord Sondes.

His lordship d. 23 Feb. 1711-12, and was s. by his elder son,

Thomas, 2nd baron; who was created, 26 Oct. 1714, Earl of Clare, co. Suffolk, and Viscount Houghton, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his brother, the Hon. Henry Pelham; and advanced, 2 Aug. 1715, with the same limitation, to the Marquessate of Clare and Dukedom of Newcastle. In 1718, his grace was elected a knight of the Garter. The duke having subsequently filled very high ministerial offices (and his brother, Henry, leaving only daus. at his decease), was created, 13 Nov. 1756, Duke of Newcastle-under-Lyme, with remainder to Henry Clinton, Earl of Lincoln, and the heirs male of the said Henry Clinton, by his wife, Catherine, eldest dau. of the deceased Henry Pelham; and 4 May, 1762, his grace obtained, also by creation, the Barony of Pelham of Stanmer, with remainder to Thomas Pelham, Esq. of that place. The duke d. 17 Nov. 1768; when the barony he had inherited, and the honours first conferred upon himself, expired; the Dukedom of Newcastle-under-Lyme passed, as limited, to his nephew-in-law, the Earl of Lincoln; and the Barony of Pelham of Stanmer, with the baronetcy, devolved upon

Thomas Pelham, Esq. of Stanmer, co. Sussex (refer to issue of 3rd baronet), as 6th baronet and 2nd baron. His lordship, who had filled several offices under the crown, was elevated 23 June, 1801, to an earldom, as Earl of Chichester, co. Sussex. He m. 15 June, 1754, Anne, only dau. and heiress of Frederick-Meinhardt Frankland, Esq., and by her (who d. 5 March, 1813) had issue,

Thomas, his successor.

ii. George-Hugo, b. 17 Oct. 1887.

i. Lettice-Joan, b. 23 May, 1882.

Lineage.

At the time of the General Survey, the lordship of Calmundelei formed part of the possessions of

Robert, son of Hugh, Baron of Malpas, which Robert dying without issue, the lordship of Calmundelei, &c., devolved on his only dau. and heiress, Lettice, who married,

Richard de Belward, whose son, or grandson,

William de Belward, m. Beatrix, dau. of Ranulph de Meschines, Earl of Chester. This William, who, in right of his mother, was Baron of Malpas, left three sons, viz.,

David, who, from being clerk, or secretary, to the Earl of Chester, was sometimes written Le Clerk, and sometimes de Malpas, having s. his father at Malpas, after the Earldom of Chester was annexed to the crown, served the office of sheriff for the co. of Chester, 36th Henry III., bearing then the name of David de Malpas. The second son of this David. Philip, having seated himself at Egerton, left the surname of Egerton to his descendants, whence the numerous eminent families of Egerton, in Cheshire.

Robert, of whom presently.

Richard.

The 2nd son,

Robert, having, by the gift of his father, the lordship of Cholmondeley, and fixing his residence there, assumed the surname therefrom. He m. Mabel, dau. of Sir Robert Fitz-Nigel, Baron of Halton, and was s. by his son,

Sir Hugh de Cholmundeleih, who lived in the reign of Henry III., and from him we pass to his lineal descendant

Richard de Cholmondeley, who m. Eleanor, 5th dau. of Sir Thomas Dutton, of Dutton, and sister and co-heir of John Dutton, who d. in minority. The grandson of this feudal lord,

Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, was a military character of eminence in the reign of Henry VIII. He was five times sheriff of Cheshire, as also sheriff of Flintshire for some years, and a long time one of the two only deputy-lieutenants of Cheshire. He m. twice, but had issue only by his first wife, Anne, dau. and co-heir of George Dorman, of Malpas (by Agnes, his wife, dau. and co-heir of John Bird, of Chorlton, by Catherine his wife, aunt and heir of David de Malpas). Sir Hugh d. 6 Jan. 1506-7, and was s. by his son,

Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, of Cholmondeley; who m. Mary, only dau. and heir of Christopher Holford, of Holford. This lady had a long dispute with George Holford, of Newborough, about the lands which had descended to her by her father, which endured about 40 years, but was at length settled by the mediation of friends. Lady Cholmondeley, in her widowhood, resided at Holford, which she rebuilt and enlarged, and was styled by James I., from the spirit she had evinced in the before-mentioned suit, "the bold lady of Cheshire." By Sir Hugh Cholmondeley she had six sons and three daus., of which,

i. Robert (the eldest son), inherited Cholmondeley.

ii. Hugh, m. Mary, dau. of Sir John Bodville, of Bodville Castle, co. Carnarvon, and dying in 1655, left, with junior issue, Robert, who s. his uncle.

iii. Thomas, of Vale Royal, ancestor of Lord Delamere.

The eldest son,

Robert Cholmondeley, Esq. of Cholmondeley, was created a Baronet, 29 June, 1611, and advanced, in 1628, to the peerage of Ireland, in the dignity of Viscount Cholmondeley, of Kells. His lordship was enrolled amongst the barons of England, in the 21st Charles I., as Lord Cholmondeley, of Wiche Malbank, commonly called Namptwich; and further advanced, the next year, to the Earldom of Leinster. He m. Catherine, dau. of John, Lord Stanhope of Harrington, but d. s. p. 2 Oct. 1659, when his honours became extinct, but his estates passed to his nephew,

ROBERT CHOLMONDELEY, Esq., who was created Viscount Cholmondeley, of Kells, 29 March, 1661. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of George Cradock, Esq. of Caverswell Castle, in Staffordshire; and dying in May, 1681, was s. by his son,

HUGH, 2nd viscount; who, having zealously forwarded the Revolution, was created, on the accession of WILLIAM and MARY, by letters-patent, dated 10 April, 1689, Lord Cholmondeley, of Namptwich, with remainder to his brother GEORGE, and advanced, 27 Dec. 1706, to the dignities of Viscount Malpas and Earl of Cholmondeley, with similar reversion. His lordship d. unm. 18 Jan. 1724, and was s. by his only brother,

GEORGE, 2nd earl; who had previously distinguished himself as a military officer (having commanded the horse-grenadier guards of WILLIAM, at the battle of the Boyne), and had been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 12 April, 1715, as Baron Newborough, of Newborough, co. Wexford, and 10 July, 1716, created a peer of England, by the title of Baron of Newburgh, in the Isle of Anglesey. His lordship m. Anne-Elizabeth, dau. of Heer Van Baron Ruytenburgh, by his wife, Anne-Elizabeth, dau. of Louis de Nassau, Seigneur of Auverquerque, who was father of Henry D'Auverquerque, Earl of Grantham.* Earl Cholmondeley, by this marriage, had, with three daus., three sons, viz.,

CLANRICARDE.

CLANRICARDE, MARQUESS AND EARL OF (Hubert-George de Burgh-Canning), Viscount Burke of Clanmoriess, co. Mayo, and Baron Dunkellin, co. Galway, also Earl of Clanricarde, in the county of Galway, in Ireland; Baron Somerhill, of Somerhill, co. Kent, in the United Kingdom, D.L. co. Galway, b. 30 Nov. 1832; s. his father as 15th earl 1874; assumed by royal licence July, 1862, in compliance with the testamentary injunction of his maternal uncle, Earl Canning, the surname of CANNING in addition to and after that of DE BURGH, and the arms of Canning and De Burgh quarterly. His lordship, formerly in the Diplomatic Service, represented the co. of Galway in Parliament from Sept. 1867, to Feb. 1871.

Lineage.

The family of De Burgh, De Burgo, Burke, or Bourke (as at different times written), Earls and Marquesses of Clanricarde, ranks amongst the most distinguished in the kingdom, and deduces an uninterrupted line of powerful nobles from the Anglo-Norman Conquest of Ireland.

WILLIAM FITZ-ADELM was sent by HENRY II., with Hugh de Lacie, into Ireland, to receive the submission of Roderick O'Conor, King of Connaught, and of O'Meleaghlin, King of Meath, and founded there, according to Sir Richard Cox, "one of the best and noblest families, which has yielded many brave and worthy men, that have proved eminently serviceable to their king and country, whereby the name, estate, and family are preserved, in great honour and reputation, to this day." This William, who was made governor of Wexford, was entrusted, on the king's return to England, with the management of his affairs in Ireland. In 1175, in a synod of the bishops and clergy at Waterford, he published the bull, and the privileges granted by POPE ALEXANDER III., in confirmation of the bull of ADRIAN IV., constituting the king Lord of Ireland. In 1179, he obtained by grant, a great part of the province of Connaught. He d. in 1204, and was s. by his son,

RICHARD DE BURGH, surnamed The great Lord of Connaught, who was lord-lieutenant of Ireland in 1227. This Richard built the castle of Galway in 1232, and that of Loughrea in 1236. He was a man of high authority and power, and d. on his passage to France, in Jan. 1243, in proceeding to meet the King of England at Bordeaux, attended "by his barons and knights." He m. Hodierna, dau. of Robert de Gernon, and granddau., maternally, of Cahill Crovderg, or The Red Hand, King of Connaught, and had two sons, viz.,

I. WALTER, Lord of Connaught, who, marrying MAUD, dau. and heir of Hugh de Lacie, the younger, became in her right, EARL OF ULSTER, on the death of his father-in-law. He was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 2nd Earl of Ulster, usually called The Red Earl whose great-granddau., LADY ELIZABETH DE BURGH, only child and heiress of William, 3rd Earl of Ulster, m. LIONEL, of Antwerp, Duke of Clarence, 3rd son of EDWARD III., who became, in consequence, 4th Earl of Ulster, and Lord of Connaught, and had, by the heiress of De Burgh, an only dau., Philippa, wife of EDWARD MORTIMER, 3rd Earl of March, and jure uxoris, 5th Earl of Ulster, ancestor, through his granddau., the LADY ANNE MORTIMER, wife of Richard Plantagenet, Earl of Cambridge, of EDWARD IV., King of England.

II. WILLIAM.

The 2nd son of Richard de Burgh, Lord of Connaught,

SIR RICKARD DE BURGH, Lord of Clanricarde, a person of great power, was distinguished, like his progenitors, in arms. He had by Ismania, his wife (who had her dower A.D. 1330) two sons,

I. ULICK, his successor.
II. Walter, whose son Edmond was hostage for his father, A.D. 1347.

The elder son,

ULICK DE BURGH, Lord of Clanricarde, m. a dau. of O'Flaherty, of Iar Connaught, by whom he had,

I. RICKARD, his successor.
II. Redmond, ancestor of BURKES of Castle Hackett, Ower, Cloghran, and Athkip.
III. Edmund, ancestor of BURKES of Pallice, Lisnard, and Derry.

The eldest son,

RICKARD BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, also called Mac William Oughter, had two sons,

I. ULICK, his heir.
II. William, whose son, Rickard was Tanist of Clanricarde, and d. s. p. 1460.

The elder son,

ULICK BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, called Ulick of the Wine, m. the dau. of Murtogh O'Kelly, Chief of Taghmony, and had two sons,

I. ULICK, his successor.
II. Edmund, who d. of the plague, 1439.

The Lord of Clanricarde d. 1424, and was s. by his eldest son,

ULICK BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, called "Ulick Roe," m. 1st, Honora, dau. of Tiege O'Brien, son of Conor O'Brien, King of Thomond, and 2ndly, More, dau. of O'Conor Faley, and had by the former,

I. ULICK, his successor.
II. Rickard, ancestor of the BURKES of Derrymacloghny.
III. Thomas.
IV. Redmond.
V. Richard.

The Lord of Clanricarde d. 1467, and was s. by his eldest son,

ULICK BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, called "Ulick Fion," m. Slany O'Brien, and had,

I. ULICK, his successor.
II. Rickard, m. the dau. of O'Madden, of Portumna, and d. 1519, leaving,

1 ULICK, 1st Earl of Clanricarde, of whom hereafter.
2 Richard, whose son, William m. his cousin, dau. of his uncle Richard Oge Burke, and had two sons.
3 Theobald.
4 Rickard Oge, whose dau. m. her cousin, William Burke.
5 Redmond of Tynae, and had a son,
Rowland of Tynae, who d. s. p. 20 Jan. 1580, when the Earl of Clanricarde was found to be his heir.

III. Thomas, killed 1517.

The Lord of Clanricarde d. 1487, and was s. by his eldest son,

ULICK BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, m. Slany, dau. of Siodha MacNamara, by whom (who d. 1498) he had an only son, ULICK, who s. his father as Lord of Clanricarde, and d. s. p. 1520.

The Lord of Clanricarde d. 1509, and was s. by his only son, at whose death s. p. in 1520, the lordship descended to his cousin,

ULICK BURKE, Lord of Clanricarde, who was created, by HENRY VIII., at Greenwich, 1 July, 1543, Baron of Dunkellin and EARL OF CLANRICARDE; and obtained, at the same time, from the king, a grant of the monastery of Devia Nova, in the diocese of Clonfert, with the advowsons and donations of all the rectories, &c., in Clanricarde and Dunkellin, belonging to the crown. His lordship did not, however, long enjoy his honours; but dying 19 Oct. 1544, was s. by his only son,

RICHARD, 2nd earl, who, while lord-lieut. of Ireland, overthrew, in conjunction with Sir Richard Bingham, the Scotch, at the river Moye, in 1553. His lordship m. 1st, 24 Nov. 1553, Lady Margaret O'Brien, dau. of Morough, 1st Earl of Thomond, and had issue,

I. ULICK, 3rd earl.
II. John, Lord Leitrim, laid a claim to the earldom on his father's death, but made his submission 7 Sept. 1582, and was allowed the castle and Barony of Leitrim, and declared to be next in remainder to the Earldom of Clanricarde on failure of the heirs male of the body of his brother, m. Joanna, dau. of Sir William O'Carroll, and was murdered in the house of Redmond Burke, 11 Nov. 1583, leaving three sons,
1 John, 2nd Lord Leitrim, taken in rebellion and executed for treason.
2 Redmond, 3rd Lord Leitrim, a captain among the rebels in Connaught, and much esteemed by them for his wit and valour. He was a fugitive in Spain in 1615.
3 William, who was granted a pension by King's Letter, 4 Sept. 1603.

The earl m. 2ndly, Lady Margaret O'Brien, dau. of Donough, 2nd Earl of Thomond, but does not appear to have left any issue by her, who was living 1615, aged 80. He d. 24 July, 1582, and was s. by his eldest son,

ULICK, 3rd earl, m. Honora, dau. of John Burke, Esq. of Clogheroka, and had issue,

I. RICHARD, Lord Dunkellin.
II. Thomas (Sir), d. s. p.
III. WILLIAM (Sir), who left two sons,
1 RICHARD,
2 WILLIAM, } who s. as 6th and 7th Earls of Clanricarde.
IV. JOHN, created, 20 April, 1629, VISCOUNT BURKE, of Clanmories, co. Mayo, with remainder, in default of his own male issue, to the issue male of his father. His lordship d. 1635 s. p., but the limitation in the patent conveyed the dignity to the house of Clanricarde.
V. Edmund, of Kilcornan, co. Galway, from whom derived the BURKES OF KILCORNAN, represented by CHRISTOPHER-TALBOT-N. REDINGTON, Esq., of Kilcornan, and the BURKES OF GREENFIELD, co. Galway, whose representative, the late THOMAS-GISBORNE BURKE, Esq. of Greenfield, was at one time presumptive heir to the earldom of Clanricarde.

His lordship d. 20 May, 1601, and was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 4th earl, surnamed of Kinsale, from the valour he had displayed against the rebels there. This nobleman was created an English peer, 3 April, 1624, by the titles of Baron Somerhill and Viscount Tunbridge, co. Kent, and 23 Aug. 1628, Baron of Imanney, and Viscount Galway, and Earl of St. Albans. His lordship m. Frances, dau. and heir of Sir Francis Walsingham, and widow of Sir Philip Sydney, and of ELIZABETH'S unfortunate favourite, the Earl of Essex, by whom he had one son, ULICK, his successor, and two daus., Mary, wife of Edmund, son of James, Earl of Ormonde; and Honora, m. to John Paulet, Marquess of Winchester. He d. 12 Nov. 1635, and was s. by his only son,

ULICK, 5th Earl of Clanricarde, and 2nd of St. Albans, b. 1604. This nobleman was advanced to the Marquessate of Clanricarde, in Ireland, 21 Feb. 1644. He m. Dec. 1622, Anne, dau. of William, Earl of Northampton, and by her (who d. 17 Aug. 1675) had,

The marquess dying thus without male issue, in 1657, the Marquessate of Clanricarde, Viscountcy of Galway and Barony of Imanney, and his English honours expired; while the Irish earldom reverted to his cousin,

RICHARD, 6th earl, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Walter, 11th Earl of Ormonde, and had two daus., his co-heirs, Mary, wife of Sir John Burke, of Derrymacloghny; and Margaret, wife of Col. Garret Moore. The earl, dying s. p. m. in 1666, was s. by his brother,

WILLIAM, 7th earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Lettice, only dau. of Sir Henry Shirley, of Astwell, by Dorothy his wife, dau. of Robert, Earl of Essex, and had issue,

JOHN, created by JAMES II., after his abdication, Lord Bophin, s. as 9th Earl of Clanricarde.
Thomas, killed at Buda.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Ellen, dau. of Donough, Earl of Clancarty, and had,

ULICK, created Baron Tyaquin and Viscount Galway, m. Hon. Frances Lane, dau. of George, Viscount Lanesborough, killed at Aughrim.
William, d. s. p.
Margaret, m. 1st, to Bryan, Viscount Magennis of Iveagh; and 2ndly, to Col. Butler, of Kilcash.
Honor, m. 1st, to Patrick Sarsfield, Earl of Lucan; and 2ndly, to James Fitz-James, Duke of Berwick.

The earl was s. at his decease, in 1687, by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 8th earl, P.C., who m. 1st, a dau. of Mr. Bagnall, page to JAMES II., and had one only dau., Dorothy, m. as 1st wife to Alexander Pendarves, Esq. of Roscrowe, in Cornwall; 2ndy, Anne, Dowager Countess of Warwick, dau. of Sir Thomas Cheke, of Pirgo, Essex. He was s. by his brother,

JOHN, 9th earl, b. 1642. This nobleman was col. of a regiment of foot in the army of JAMES II., and being taken prisoner at the head of his regiment at the battle of Aughrim, was conveyed to the castle of Dublin, and thence removed into England. His lordship being outlawed and attainted, his estates were forfeited; but his children claiming their several remainders before the trustees for the sale of forfeitures, recovered the same; and an act of parliament passed (1st of Queen ANNE) for making provision for the protestant children of the Earl of Clanricarde, whereby his lordship was acquitted of all treasons and attainders, and restored to his estates. He m. Oct. 1684, Mary, dau. of James Talbot, Esq.; and left (with four daus., Letitia, m. to Sir Festus Burke, of Glinsk; Bridget, m. to Richard, Viscount Dillon; Honora, m to John Kelly, Esq. of Clonlyon; and Mary, m. to Garrett Moore, Esq.) six sons,

I. MICHAEL, 10th earl.
II. John, on whom his father settled Clondagoff and other lands, co. Galway, m. Mary, only dau. and heiress of John Burke, Esq., of Clogheroka, and d. Aug. 1718, without male issue.
III. Ulick, colonel in the French service, d. s. p. 4 Dec. 1762.
IV. Thomas, of Lackan, co. Roscommon, m. Mary, dau. of Alexander Eustace, and d. 1764, s. p. m.
V. Edward, general in the Spanish service, d. unm. 7 March, 1743, of wounds received at the battle of Campo Santo.
VI. William, in the French service, killed at Fontenoy, 11 May, 1745.

The earl d. 17 Oct. 1722, and was s. by his eldest son,

MICHAEL, 10th earl, m. 19 Sept. 1714, Anne, widow of Hugh Parker, Esq., and eldest dau. and co-heir of John Smith, Esq. one of the Commissioners of Excise, by whom (who d. 1732, and was buried in Westminster Abbey) he had,

JOHN-SMITH, his heir.
Anne, m. to Denis Daly, Esq. of Raford, co. Galway.
Mary, m. to George Jennings, Esq., and had an only dau. and heir, Hester, wife of James, Lord Selsey.

His lordship d. 28 Nov. 1736, and was s. by his son,

JOHN-SMITH, 11th earl,* b. 11 Nov. 1702, who m. 1st, 1 July, 1740, Hester, youngest dau. of Sir Henry Vincent, Bart., and dying 21 April, 1782, left (with two daus., Hester-Amelia, wife of William Trenchard, Esq.; and Margaret-Augusta, wife of Luke Dillon, Esq.) two sons. He m. 2ndly, Feb. 1761, Madame Carolina. His widow d. 1804. His eldest son, HENRY, 12th earl, b. in Jan. 1742, was a privy councillor in Ireland, a knight of St. Patrick, and governor of the co.

* In process of time the Norman name of DE BURGH became BURKE, and was so borne by the Earls of Clanricarde, until John-Smith, the 11th earl, resumed, by sign-manual, 1752, the original surname.

Galway. He was created MARQUESS OF CLANRICARDE, 17 Aug. 1789. He m. 17 March, 1785, Urania-Anne, dau. of George, 12th Marquess of Winchester (her ladyship, who m. 2ndly, in 1799, Col. VI. Harriet-Margaret, b. 20 March, 1891.

His lordship was M.P. for North Devon, 1857-66. He is the eldest co-heir of the ancient Barony of ay, which has remained in abeyance for several enturies. When Sir James Fienes obtained the arony of Say and Sele, by creation, 1447, John, ıe 5th and then Baron Clinton, great-grandson and epresentative of Idonea Say, relinquished all claim o the barony and arms of Say; but how far such cession affects his descendants, has not been etermined. According, however, to the celebrated esolution of the House of Lords, 18 June, 1768, that no fine now levied, nor at any time hereafter o be levied, to the king, can bar such title of onour, or the right of any person claiming such tle under him that levied, or shall levy, such fine," would appear that it did not prejudice their ereditary right. The present Lord Clinton has by oyal licence, dated 4 Sept. 1867, taken the surames of HEPBURN-STUART-FORBES in addition to hat of TREFUSIS, and the arms of Stuart and Forbes uarterly with those of Trefusis.

Lineage.

JOHN DE CLINTON, son of Thomas de Clinton, of Amingon and Maxtock, co. Warwick, by Maud, dau. of Sir Ralph racebridge, of Kinsbury, co Warwick, and the deendant of Osbert, nephew of Geoffrey de Clinton, lord amberlain to HENRY I., marrying Ida, eldest of the four sters and co-heirs of William de Odingsells, Lord of Maxck Castle, co. This nobleman, who was one of the most eminent persons of the age in which he lived (see DUKE OF NEWCASTLE), was created EARL OF LINCOLN, 4 May, 1572, having previously filled the office of LORD HIGH ADMIRAL. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Blount, and widow of Gilbert, Lord Talboys, by whom he had three daus. He m. 2ndly, Ursula, dau. of William, Lord Stourton, and had, EDWARD, his successor, with other issue. He m. 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. of Gerald Fitzgerald, 9th Earl of Kildare, and widow of Sir Anthony Browne, Knt., but had no other children. Her ladyship was celebrated by Henry, Earl of Surrey, under the name of "the Fair Geraldine." This great earl d. 16 Jan. 1584-5, and was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY, 10th Baron Clinton and 2nd Earl of Lincoln; b. 1540; K.B., who m. 1st, Catherine, dau. of Francis Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon, by whom he had THOMAS, his successor, and HENRY, from whom the extant Dukes of Newcastle derive. His lordship m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Morrison, and widow of William, Lord Norreys of Rycote, by whom he had two sons and a dau. The earl d. 29 Sept. 1616, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 11th Baron Clinton, and 3rd Earl of Lincoln, b. 1571, who had summons to parliament 18 Feb. 7 Jas. I., as Lord Clinton and Say. This nobleman m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Henry Knevitt, of Charlton, co. Wilts, and dying 15 Jan. 1618-19, was s. by his son,

His lordship s. his father as 4th BARON LYTTELTON, 8 April, 1876, and became VISCOUNT COBHAM at he decease of the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos, 26 March, 1889.

Lineage.

The family of Lyttelton has been of long standing in the o. of Worcester, and had considerable possessions in the Vale of Evesham, particularly at South Lyttelton (whence the name has probably been assumed) in the beginning of the 13th century.

THOMAS DE LUTTELTON, circa 19, HENRY III., m. Emma, only dau. and heir of Sir Simon de Frankley, Knt., by whom he had an only dau. Emma, who m. Augerus de Tatlynton. Thomas de Luttelton m. 2ndly, Anselm, dau. and heir of William Fitzwarren, of Upton, co. Worcester, one of the justices-itinerant and judge of the Common Pleas, 12th HENRY III., and sheriff of Worcestershire the following year, by whom he left three sons. He was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

EDMUND DE LUTTELTON, who resided at Coulesdon, and had lands at Naunton, in Worcestershire. His youngest and only surviving brother,

THOMAS DE LUTTELTON, represented the co. of Worcester in parliament from 9th EDWARD II. to the 34th EDW. III., and was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

THOMAS DE LUTTELTON, who recovered the manor of Frankley, by a writ of right, on failure of issue to his cousin, Thomas de Tatlynton. This Thomas de Luttelton was esquire of the body to three successive kings, namely, RICHARD II., HENRY IV., and HENRY V. He d. 1st HENRY VI., and left an only dau. and heiress,

ELIZABETH DE LUTTELTON, who m. Thomas Westcote, Esq., the king's servant in court, a gentleman of Devonshire, anciently descended; but she being fair, and of noble spirit, (to use the phraseology of Lord Coke), and having large possessions and inheritances from her ancestors, De Luttelton, and from her mother, the dau. and co-heir of Quartermain, and other ancestors, resolved to continue the honour of her name, and therefore provided, by Westcote's assent, before marriage, that her issue inheritable should be called by the name of LUTTELTON. Upon this marriage, Mr. Westcote settled at Frankley, and served the office of escheator of Worcester, 29th HENRY VI., 1450; soon after which he died, leaving four sons and as many daus., and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS LUTTELTON or Lyttelton (as he began to write it), who, having been brought up to the bar, was called, in 1454, to the degree of serjeant-at-law, and in the following year was nominated king's serjeant. In 1464 (4th EDWARD IV.), Mr. Serjeant Lyttelton was appointed judge of the court of Common Pleas, and in the 15th year of the same monarch, created K.B. Sir Thomas wrote his celebrated Treatise on Tenures after he had ascended the bench. Sir Thomas Lyttelton m. Joan, widow of Sir Philip Chetwind, of Ingestrie, and dau. and co-heir of Sir William Burley, Knt. of Bromscroft Castle, Shropshire, by whom he had (with two daus., who d. unm.) three sons,

I. WILLIAM, his successor.
II. Richard, ancestor of the LITTLETONS of Pillaton Hall, co. Stafford, represented by Baron Hatherton.
III. Thomas, of Spetchley, near Worcester, ancestor of Lord-Keeper Lyttleton, Baron of Mounslow, temp. CHARLES I., and of Sir William Lyttleton, speaker of the House of Commons, temp. WILLIAM III.

His lordship d. 23 Aug. 1481, and was s. by his son,

SIR WILLIAM LYTTELTON, of Frankley, who m. 1st, Ellyn, widow of Thomas Fielding, Esq., and dau. and heir of William Walsh, Esq. of Wanlip, in Leicestershire, by whom he had an only dau., Joan, who m. Sir John Aston, of Heywood, co. Stafford. Sir William m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of William Whittington, Esq. of Pauntley, co. Gloucester; and dying in 1507, was s. by his only son,

JOHN LYTTELTON, Esq. This gentleman m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Gilbert Talbot, and great-great-granddau. (maternally) of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, son of King EDWARD III.; in right of whom the family of Lyttelton quarters the arms of France and England, within a bordure gobony. (See BURKE'S History of the Royal Families of England.) Of this marriage, there were seven sons and two daus. John Lyttelton d. 17 May, 1532, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN LYTTELTON, Knight. This gentleman was granted by Queen MARY, in 1553, the office of constable of Dudley Castle, co. Stafford, with the rangership of the old and new parks there; and though adhering to the catholic religion, he enjoyed the confidence of Queen ELIZABETH, being, during her majesty's reign, one of the council of the marches of Wales, deputy-lieutenant, and custos rotulorum of the co. Worcester, and in the commission of the peace for that and the co. Stafford. He received, too, the honour of knighthood from Queen ELIZABETH in 1556, at Kenilworth Castle, when her majesty honoured Dudley, Earl of Leicester, with a visit there. Sir John d. 15 Feb. 1589-90, and was s. by his eldest son, GILBERT LYTTELTON, Esq., M.P. for the co. Worcester, 13th and 14th Queen ELIZABETH, and high sheriff in the 25th of the same reign. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Humphrey Coningsby, Esq. of Nyend-Solers, in Shropshire, and of Hampton Court, co. Hereford; and dying 1 June, 1599, was s. by his eldest son.

JOHN LYTTELTON, Esq., M.P. for the co. Worcester, temp. ELIZABETH. This gentleman (to use the words of Sir Francis Bacon) being much respected for his wit and valour, and a Roman catholic, was courted by Lord Essex and his friends; and in some measure drawn in by Sir Charles Danvers to that conspiracy which cost Essex his head, and Lyttelton his estate: for he was tried and convicted of high treason at the Queen's Bench bar, 20 Feb. 1600-1, and died in prison in the July following (the execution of the penalty regarding life being averted through the interest of Sir Walter Raleigh). Mr. Lyttelton m. Muriel, dau. of Sir Thomas Bromley, Knt., and left issue, three sons and five daus. Mrs. Lyttelton obtained, upon the accession of JAMES I., a reversal of the attainder of her husband, and a grant, by letters patent, of the whole of his estate. She was a person of great prudence, and discharged debts contracted by her husband and his father, to the amount of £9000, although she was remarkable for benevolence and hospitality. This lady survived Mr. Lyttelton twenty-eight years, and brought up her children in the reformed religion. The eldest son,

SIR THOMAS LYTTELTON, Knt., represented the co. Worcester in parliament, and served the office of sheriff of that shire in 1613. He was created a Baronet 25 July, 1618. This gentleman was an active adherent of royalty during the civil wars, and suffered imprisonment in the Tower in consequence. Sir Thomas m. Catherine, dau. and sole heir of Sir Thomas Crompton, of Driffield, co. York, and had issue. He d. 22 Feb. 1649-50, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR HENRY, who also suffered for his attachment to royalty, and was imprisoned in the Tower of London for seventeen months. He m. 1st, Philadelphia, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Carey, 2nd son of Robert, Earl of Mon-Mouth; and 2ndly, the Hon. Elizabeth Newport, dau. of Francis, Viscount Newport, but had no issue. He d. in 1703, when the title devolved upon his brother,

SIR CHARLES. This gentleman was likewise an active partisan of royalty, and was within the walls of Colchester when that town underwent the severe siege by CROMWELL'S forces. He d. 2 May, 1716, in the 87th year of his age, and was s. by his only surviving son* (by his 2nd wife, Anne, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Temple, of Frankton, in Warwickshire),

SIR THOMAS, M.P. for the co. Worcester, and lord of the Admiralty in 1727; who m. 8 May, 1708, Christian, dau. of Sir Richard Temple, Bart. of Stowe, co. Bucks, and sister of Sir Richard Temple, BARON and VISCOUNT COBHAM (see KINLOSS, Bss.), and by her had issue,

GEORGE, his heir.
Thomas, d. unm. 16 April, 1729.
Charles, Bishop of Carlisle, d. unm. in 1768.
Richard (Sir), K.B., m. 14 Dec. 1745, Rachel, eldest dau. of Wriothesley, Duke of Bedford, and widow of Scroop, 1st Duke of Bridgewater, but d. s. p. 1 Oct. 1770.
WILLIAM-HENRY, created Lord Westcote, inherited as 7th baronet.
Christian, m. to Thomas Pitt, Esq. of Boconnoc, father of the 1st Lord Camelford.
Anne, m. to the Rev. Francis Ayscough, D.D.
Hester, m. to John Fitzmaurice, Esq. of Springfield Castle, co. Limerick.

Sir Thomas d. 14 Sept. 1751, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR GEORGE, b. 17 Jan. 1709. This gentleman, who represented the borough of Oakhampton in parliament, was appointed secretary to the Prince of Wales in 1737; one of the commissioners to the Treasury in 1744; cofferer to the household, and a privy-councillor, in 1754; and in 1755, chancellor and under-treasurer of the Exchequer. Sir George Lyttelton was elevated to the peerage, 18 Nov. 1756 by the title of LORD LYTTELTON, Baron of Frankley, co. Worcester. His lordship m. 1st, June, 1742, Lucy, dau. of Hugh Fortescue, Esq. of Filleigh, co. Devon, by whom (who d. 19 Jan. 1747) he had issue,

THOMAS, his heir.
Lucy, m. Arthur Viscount Valentia, afterwards 1st Earl of Mountnorris, and is now represented by COL. ARTHUR LYTTELTON-LYTTELTON-ANNESLEY, late comm. 11th Hussars and Adjutant-General, Bombay Army, now major-gen. on staff to command troops in North Britain (see VALENTIA, V.)

He m. 2ndly, 10 Aug. 1749, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Robert Rich Bart. He d. 22 Aug. 1773, and was s. by his son,

THOMAS, 2nd lord, b. 30 Jan. 1744; who m. 22 June, 1772 Apphia, 2nd dau. of Broome Witts, Esq. of Chipping Norton, and relict of Joseph Peach, governor of Calcutta, but had no issue. His lordship d. 27 Nov. 1779, when the peerage expired; his sister, Lady Valentia, became his heiress general, but the baronetcy reverted to his uncle (the baroness d. 9 April, 1840),

WILLIAM-HENRY (refer to children of 4th baronet), b. 24 Dec., 1724, who had been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 29 April, 1776, by the title of Baron Westcote, of Ballymore, co. Longford. His lordship was governor of South Carolina, in 1755; of Jamaica, in 1760; and envoy-extraordinary and minister-plenipotentiary to the court of Portugal, in 1766. He was created a peer of Great Britain, 13 Aug. 1794, by the same title which had expired with his nephew and predecessor. Lord Lyttelton m. 1st, 2 June, 1761, Mary, eldest dau. and co-heir of James Macartney, Esq. of Longford, in Ireland, nephew and co-heir of Ambrose Aungier, Earl of Longford, by whom (who d. 28 May, 1765) he had issue,

CONROY.

Conroy, Sir John, Bart. of Llanbrynmair, co. Montgomery, M.A., F.R.S., J.P., b. 16 Aug. 1845; s. his father as 3rd bart., 1869.

Lineage.

This is one of the ancient Milesian families of Ireland, deducing its descent from Maine, son of Nial, of the 9 Hostages, Monarch of Ireland, A.D. 400.

"It was the privilege of the O'Mulconry (saith the old chronicles) to stand alone, with the new king, upon the sacred mount of Carn Fraoich, and there to deliver into his hands, the white wand or sceptre, the emblem of sovereignty, to administer the usual oath or admonition to preserve the customs of the country, and finally to record the proceedings."

The early part of the pedigree of the chiefs of this family (of whom the present baronet is the lineal descendant) is to be found in the Funeral Entries, Vol. VII., in Ulster's Office, Dublin Castle, from which it appears that the funeral, and lineage of Moylin O'Mulconry, chief of his name, were duly registered, recording Moylin, as 43rd in descent of this ancient family, and received the warranty dated 6 July, 1638, of Thomas Preston, then Ulster, King of Arms.

MOYLIN O'MULCONRY, of Tullon, co. Roscommon [The O'Mulconry] had by his wife Catherine, dau. of Teique O'Flanagan of Ceancloin, five sons and four daus. He d. 1637. His eldest son,

THORNA O'MULCONRY, or CONRY, b. 1600; m. Evelin, dau. of Ferdoragh Mac Branan, of Clonicarran, Gent., and dying in 1647, was s. by his only son,

JOHN O'MULCONRY, or CONRY, who, having taken part in the civil war, as a royalist, suffered from the confiscations inflicted upon the native families by CROMWELL, and fled to France, where finally dropping the prefixes to his name, he m. in 1655, Florence, dau. and heir of Gerald-Fitzgerald (of the House of Desmond), and was killed in the service of LOUIS XIV., at the passage of the Rhine, 11 June, 1672, leaving one dau. and two sons. The elder,

CHARLES CONRY, Esq., b. in 1657, had a re-grant of land in co. Roscommon from King CHARLES II., dated 16 Aug. 1678. By the adherence of this gentleman to the cause of King JAMES II. he was totally ruined, and fell at the battle of the Boyne, 1 July, 1690. He was s. by his brother as heir male,

FERFEASA CONRY, Esq., of Elphin, b. in 1661, who became the first protestant of this family, to avoid the penalties inflicted upon the Irish catholics by the penal laws of King WILLIAM III. He m. 1702, Cicely Aylmer, and dying in 1746 was s. by his only son,

JOHN CONRY, Esq., of Bettifield, co. Roscommon, b. in 1704, m. 1747, Elizabeth, only dau. of Robert Foulke, Esq. of Currah, co. Cork (descended from the ancient English family of FOULKE of Gunston, in Staffordshire), and dying in 1769, left issue two daus. and one son, JOHN-PONSONBY, his heir, b. 1759.

Elizabeth, m. 1776, Dr. Robert Longfield, of Cork, cousin to the Viscount Longueville (see Family of LONGFIELD, in BURKE'S Landed Gentry), and d. in 1818.
Catherine, m. 1783, Walter Hore, Esq. of Seafield, co. Wexford, 3rd son of Walter Hore, Esq. of Harpurstown, co. Wexford, and nephew to the 2nd Earl of Courtown; she d. 1824.

The only son,

JOHN-PONSONBY CONRY, Esq., barrister-at-law, inserted the O in the final syllable of his name; b. in 1759; he m. in 1785, Margaret, dau. of Francis-Vernon Wilson, Esq. of Tully, co. Longford, (descended from an English cadet, who, coming into Ireland as a captain of horse in CROMWELL'S army, obtained large grants of confiscated land); and d. 23 Sept. 1797, leaving issue,

I. JOHN, his heir, the 1st baronet.

I. VINCENT-STEWART, b. 27 Jan. 1890.
II. Roland-James, b. 19 Aug. 1892.

Lineage.

This is one of the few families still existing, who trace, in the male line, an undoubted descent from an ancient race of the same name in Normandy, of whom was Hugh Corbet (or Corbeau), living 1040.

He had issue, four sons, viz., Hugh, Roger, Robert, and Reginald. Of these, Hugh, the eldest son, succeeded to the lands in Normandy, and was ancestor of the Corbets of that country. Reginald, the youngest son, accompanied Hugh, Count de Saint Paul, to the Holy Land, in 1096, and was ancestor of the Corbets of Artois, and of Flanders, Châtelaines de Saint Paul. The two other sons, Roger and Robert, accompanied their father into England, at the Norman Invasion. Robert, the third son, received large estates in Shropshire, and elsewhere, and had issue, one son, Robert Corbet (Lord of Alcester, co. Warwick, who d. without issue), and two daus., 1 Sibil, ancestress of the Earls of Pembroke, and 2 Alice, ancestress of the Earls of Huntingdon.

ROGER FITZ-CORBET, the second son, held, at the general survey, no less than twenty-four lordships in Shropshire, &c. He left a son,

WILLIAM DE CORBET, of Caus Castle, and Wattlesborough, co. Salop, who was father of Thomas Corbet, of Wattlesborough, and

SIR ROBERT CORBET, from whom descended Peter Corbet, of Caus Castle, who was summoned to parliament as a baron, temp. EDWARD I. (See BURKE'S Extinct Peerage.)

THOMAS CORBET, the eldest son, was grandfather of

SIR RICHARD CORBET, who settled at Moreton and his direct line continues still to reside there. Twelfth in descent from this Sir Richard was,

SIR VINCENT CORBET, Knt. of Moreton Corbet, living in 1606, who m. Frances, dau. and heir of William Humfreston, Esq. of Humfreston, and had two sons, ANDREW, his heir, and ROBERT, ancestor of the CORBETS of Ynysymaengwyn, and of the CORBETS of Darnhall, co. Lineage.

The ancestors of this noble family had, for many generations, their residence in the co. Hereford, where

LODOWICK BOYLE lived in the reign of HENRY III.; and from whom descended

LODOWICK BOYLE, of Bidney, founder of the Friars in the city of Hereford, who was living in the time of HENRY VI., and had two sons,

I. John, who settled in Herefordshire.

II. Roger, who m. and (with a dau., Mary, m. to Sir Richard Smyth, of Rathcogan—see BURKE'S Landed Gentry, SMYTH, OF HEADBOROUGH AND BALLYNATRAY) left four sons,

1 John, of Hereford.
2 RICHARD, of whose descendants we are about to treat.
3 Michael, of whose children, Michael was Bishop of Waterford, and d. in 1635; Richard was Archbishop of Tuam, and Jane was m. to Thomas Caldwell, Esq. of Newbury, Berks (see VENTRY, B.). The Archbishop of Tuam left a son, Michael, who was Archbishop of Armagh, and lord-chancellor of Ireland, and father of Morrough, created Viscount Blessington.
4 George, d. s. p.

RICHARD BOYLE, 2nd son of Roger, mentioned above, b. in 1566, studied law at the Middle Temple; but despairing, from his scanty means, of being able to pursue his studies, embarked for Ireland as an adventurer; and having obtained, after suffering some persecutions from the local authorities, the favour and protection of ELIZABETH, amassed considerable wealth, received the honour of knighthood, was sworn of the privy-council, and elevated to the peerage of that kingdom, 6 Sept. 1616, as Baron Boyle of Youghal, and 26 Oct. 1620, created Viscount Dungarvan and EARL OF CORK. His lordship, who was called "The great Earl of Cork," and who left a narrative of his remarkable career, entitled The True Remembrancer, m., 1st, 6 Nov. 1595, Joan, dau. and co-heir of William Apsley, Esq. of Limerick, with whom he acquired an estate of £500 a year, but by whom (who d. 14 Dec. 1599) he had no issue. He m. 2ndly, 25 July, 1603, Catherine, dau. of Sir Geoffrey Fenton, Knt., principal secretary of state for Ireland, and had (with several daus.) five sons, viz.,

I. RICHARD, Lord Dungarvan.

II. LEWIS, created 28 Feb. 1627, Baron of Bandon Bridge, and Viscount Boyle, of Kinalmeaky, in the peerage of Ireland. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, Earl of Denbigh (which lady was created, on the restoration of CHARLES II., Countess of Guilford), but had no issue. He fell at the battle of Liscarroll, 1642, when his honours passed (agreeably to a special limitation in the patent) to his elder brother, Lord Dungarvan.

III. ROGER, b. in 1621, elevated to the peerage of Ireland, as Baron of Broghill, with remainder to the heirs male of his father, 28 Feb. 1627. This nobleman, who made so considerable a figure in the camp, the court, and the literary world, had distinguished commands in Ireland, prior to, and under the rule of CROMWELL, and acquired considerable renown in reducing the Irish to submit to the government of the Commonwealth. Contributing eventually, however, after CROMWELL'S death, to the restoration of the monarchy, his lordship was created, 5 Sept. 1660, EARL OF ORRERY, and in the same year constituted (5 Sept.), by patent, lord-president of Munster for life. He d. 16 Oct. 1679, and left (by Margaret, his wife, 3rd dau. of Theophilus, 2nd Earl of Suffolk, with five daus.) two sons, viz.,

1 ROGER, 2nd Earl of Orrery, who marrying Lady Mary Sackville, dau. of Richard, 5th Earl of Dorset, and dying in 1682, was s. by his eldest son,

LIONEL, 3rd Earl of Orrery, at whose decease s. p. 25 Aug. 1703, the honours devolved upon his brother,

CHARLES, 4th Earl of Orrery, lieut.-gen., envoy-extraordinary to Brabant and Flanders, created a peer of Great Britain, 5 Sept. 1711, as Baron Boyle, of Marston, co. Somerset. His lordship was known in the world of letters for his literary dispute with the learned Dr. Bentley, and had his designation of "Orrery" given to a new astronomical instrument, by its inventor, George Graham. He m. Lady Elizabeth Cecil, only dau. of John, 5th Earl of Exeter; and dying, 1731, was s. by his only son, JOHN, 5th Earl of Orrery, who s. in 1753, to the EARLDOM OF CORK.

2 HENRY, father of the 1st EARL OF SHANNON.

IV. FRANCIS, created Viscount Shannon, 1660, an honour which expired, 1740, with his grandson and successor, Richard, 2nd viscount.

V. ROBERT, of Stalbridge, in Dorsetshire, b. at Lismore, 25 Jan. 1626; the celebrated philosopher, who, ennobled by his own transcendent talents, repeatedly refused the dignities of the state, having been several times offered a peerage. He d. 30 Dec. 1691, and was interred in the chancel of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, Westminster. His character is given by Dr. Gilbert Burnet, in his Funeral Sermon, preached on him at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, 7 Jan. 1692; and The present state of Europe for the February of the same year, contains this paragraph:—"The famous Mr. Boyle is dead, and his loss is lamented by all learned men. He was a philosopher under a particular character, for he addicted himself only to the study of natural philosophy, though he did not reject the other parts of that science: and it may be said, that never any man had dived so deep into the knowledge of nature as he had done; he had studied with a prodigious sedulity, and had so many experiments to explain the several phenomena which daily happen upon the concurrence of natural accidents, that there were few at this time of which he did not understand the real causes."

The great Earl of Cork, who was lord-treasurer of Ireland, d. at Youghall, in Sept. 1643, and lies interred in his chapel within the parish church there, where to him is erected a beautiful marble monument, with curiously engraven thereon his figure at full length in armour, having on each side the effigies of his wives, and the names and marriages of his children, with an inscription expressing his own marriages, titles, and employments, which concludes with this distich—

"Sic posui tumulum, Superest intendere Votis: Parce animae, carnem solvito, Christe, veni."

The earl's wife, Lady Cork, d. previously in Dublin, 16 Feb. 1629, and was privately buried in a vault which her husband had purchased from the Dean and chapter of St. Patrick's Cathedral, wherein a fair monument is erected, headed with this motto, "God's providence is our inheritance."

Of the Great Earl, Sir Richard Cox writes thus:—"The noble Earl of Cork, Lord High Treasurer, was one of the most extraordinary persons, either that or any other age hath produced, with respect to the great and just acquisition of estate that he made, and the public works that he began and finished, for the advancement of the English interest and the protestant religion in Ireland, as churches, almshouses, free-schools, bridges, castles, and towns, viz., Lismore, Tallaghe, Cloghnikilty, Innyskeene, Castleton and Bandon, which last place cost him £14,000; insomuch, that when CROMWELL saw these prodigious improvements, which he little expected to find in Ireland, he declared that if there had been an Earl of Cork in every province, it would have been impossible for the Irish to have raised a rebellion. And whilst he was carrying on these solid works, he lived in his family at a rate of plenty, that exceeded those who consumed great estates in the lavish ways of ill-ordered excess. His motto, 'God's providence is my inheritance,' shews from whence he derived all his blessings, the greatest of which was the numerous and noble posterity he had to leave his estate unto." He was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 2nd earl, b. 20 Oct. 1612. This nobleman, having m. in 1635 Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Henry Clifford, 5th Earl of Cumberland, was made a peer of England, 4 Nov. 1644, as Baron Clifford, of Lanesborough, co. York; and 20 March, 1664, created EARL OF BURLINGTON; in which honours he was s. at his decease, 13 Jan. 1697, by (the eldest surviving son of Charles, Lord Clifford, by Jane, youngest dau. of William, Duke of Somerset, and great granddau. of Edward, Duke of Somerset, uncle of EDWARD VI.) his grandson,

CHARLES, 3rd Earl of Cork and 2nd Earl of Burlington, who m. Juliana, dau. and heiress of the Hon. Henry Noel, of Luffenham, co. Rutland, 2nd son of Baptist, 3rd Viscount Campden; and dying 9 Feb. 1703, was s. by his only son,

RICHARD, 4th Earl of Cork and 3rd of Burlington, K.G., b. 25 April, 1695; m. 21 March, 1720, Dorothy, elder dau. and co-heir of William, Marquess of Halifax, by whom he had three daus. His lordship claimed, in 1737, the Barony of Clifford, as great-grandson of Lady Elizabeth Clifford, dau. and heir of Henry, Lord Clifford; and the House of Peers acknowledged and confirmed his lordship's right thereto. This nobleman was eminent as a munificent encourager of literature and the fine arts, and as the friend of Pope he will be ever remembered. He d. in 1753, and leaving an only surviving dau., CHARLOTTE,* who had m. William, 4th Duke of Devonshire, and inherited the Barony of Clifford, all his lordship's other English honours ceased, while those of Ireland devolved upon his kinsman,

JOHN, 5th Earl of Orrery, in Ireland, and Baron Boyle of Marston, in Great Britain, as 5th Earl of Cork (refer to Roger, 3rd son of the 1st Earl of Cork). His lordship m. 1st, in 1728, Lady Henrietta Hamilton, youngest dau. of George, Earl of Orkney, by whom (who d. 12 Aug. 1732) he had issue,

* Her third son, LORD GEORGE-AUGUSTUS-HENRY CAVENDISH, having inherited her estates, was created EARL OF BURLINGTON in 1831. (See DEVONSHIRE, D.)

CHARLES, Viscount Dungarvan, b. 1729, who m. 18 M[ay] 1753, Susannah, dau. of Henry Hoare, Esq. of Stourhe[ad], co. Wilts; and dying 1759, in the lifetime of his father, [left] an only child,

Lineage.

This noble family was founded by

JOHN COVENTRY, who amassed considerable wealth in the city of London, and filled the offices of sheriff and lord-mayor in 1416 and 1425. (He was one of the executors of the celebrated Sir Richard Whittington.) From this opulent citizen lineally descended

THOMAS COVENTRY, an eminent lawyer, who was appointed chief-justice of the court of Common Pleas in 1606. He m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Jeffreys, of Earles Croome, otherwise Croome d'Abitot, by whom he had (with three daus., Joan, wife of Mr. Rogers, of Surrey; Catherine, m. to William Child, Esq.; and Anne, m. to George Frampton, Esq. of Dorsetshire) three sons,

THOMAS, his successor.

William, of Ridmarley, Worcestershire.

Walter, whose son,

Walter, m. Anne, dau. of Simon Holcombe, Esq. of the co. Devon, and left, with other issue,

WILLIAM, of whom hereafter, as 5th Earl of Coventry.

The eldest son,

THOMAS COVENTRY, pursuing the profession of his father, was appointed, in 1621, attorney-general, and advanced, in four years afterwards (1 Nov. 1625), to the high office of Lord Keeper of the great seal. On 18 April, 1628, he was elevated to the peerage, by the title of Baron Coventry, of Aylesborough, co. Worcester. His lordship m. 1st, Sarah, dau. of Sir Edward Sebright, Knt. of Besford, by whom he had a son, I. THOMAS, his successor, and a dau., I. Lineage.

This family, which originally held the extensive barony of the same name in Clydesdale, is of great antiquity in Scotland. The ancient legend as to the foundation of Holyrood Abbey by David in 1128, makes the king owe his life to Sir Gregan Craufurd; and others of his name appear in charters of the same century, about the close of which Reginald de Craufurd acquired, West Kilbride, and other possessions in Ayrshire by marriage with the heiress of Loudoun, and was ancestor of Reginald, of Crosby, in West Kilbride, who, having distinguished himself at Baunockburn, was rewarded by ROBERT BRUCE in 1320 with the estate of Auchinames, and the addition of two spears in saltier to his arms. His great-grandson, Archibald, of Crosby and Auchinames, m. circa 1440, Margaret, dau. of Sir Wm. Douglas, and granddau. and heir of Sir John Stewart, of Pierston, and had two sons, Robert, from whom the Auchinames families derive, and Thomas, of Thirdpart, from whom descended

Lineage.

The house of Lindsay is found in possession of very lar territories in England and Scotland soon after the Norma conquest, and different members of this family have been co spicuous not only for their wealth and power, but for the di tinction with which they have occupied offices of great publ importance. The name appears to have died out in Englan temp. EDW. II., after which the Lindsays are not summon to parliament. It has been surmised, after long and patie investigation, that their first ancestor was a cadet of the hou of De Toeny, Knights of the Swan, hereditary standard beare of Normandy, with the Dukes of which they had a comm male origin.

RANDOLPH, Sire de Toeny, living in 1018, great-grandson Hugo, Sire de Cavalcamp, great-grandson of Ivar Jarl of t Uplanders, descended of the race of Thor and of Fornioter, i remote ages legendary king of the north (male ancestor the Dukes of Normandy and of the Clares, Cliffords, Stafford Toenys, Lindsays, &c.), had two sons,

I. Roger de Toeny (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage).
II. Hugo, who adopted from a fief in Normandy the name Limesay, and had,
1 Randolph, founder of the Priory of Hertford, lord Wolverley and many other lordships, father of Alan Limesay, lord of Wolverley, whose son, Gerard de Lim say, left issue, Sir John, lord of Wolverley, d. s. p., a two daus., the eldest of whom, Aleonora, m. her cousi Sir David, lord of Crawford.
2 BALDRIC, of Tadford, in Lincolnshire.

His grandson,

BALDRIC, younger son of Hugo, had the following issu whose order of seniority is not determined,

I. Richard.
II. Walter, held a knight's fee in Norfolk, 1116, settled Scotland, and d. s. p.
III. WILLIAM DE LIMESAY (or Lindesay), appears as lo of Ercildun (or Earlston), near the Tweed, founder the house of Crawford.

Walter, lord of Beaufort and Edzell, tutor to his nephew, David, and father (by his wife, Isabel Livingston, afterwards wife of William, Lord Ruthven) of Sir David Lindsay, lord of Edzell, whose son, Walter, was killed at Flodden, 1513. leaving issue, DAVID, who s. as 9th Earl of Crawford.

III. William, ancestor of Evelick.

IV. Sir John, of Brechin, ancestor of Pitcairlie.

V. James, who went to Germany with Princess Eleanor Stuart, and founded a house at Augsburg.

The eldest son,

ALEXANDER, 4th Earl of Crawford, hereditary sheriff of Aberdeenshire and Forfar, fought in rebellion the battle of Brechin, 1452, and was defeated by the Earl of Huntly, commander of the King's forces. He was attainted, but afterwards restored, and d. shortly after, Sept. 1453. By his wife, Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir David Dunbar, of Cockburn, brother of the Earl of March, he had,

I. DAVID, his successor.

II. Sir Alexander, lord of Auchtermonzie, s. as 7th Earl of Crawford.

I. Elizabeth, m. John, 1st Lord Drummond.

The elder son,

DAVID, 5th Earl of Crawford, Lord of Lindsay, b. 1440; s. in 1453; hereditary sheriff of Aberdeen and Forfar, was granted the lordship of Brechin, 1452, keeper of Berwick, 1473, created high-admiral of Scotland, 1476, master of the household, lord-chamberlain, and high-justiciary. He attained a grandeur and magnificence which constitutes him the greatest personage of this eminent family. He was created, 1488 and 1489, Duke of Montrose, which dignity was not assumed by his successors, but is claimed by his representative. He m. 1st, 1459, Elizabeth, dau. of James, Lord Hamilton, and 2ndly, Margaret Carmichael, and d. 1495, leaving by his 1st wife,

I. Alexander, master of Crawford, m. Janet, 2nd dau. of George, 2nd Earl of Huntley, and d. v. p., s. p. 16 Sept. 1489.

II. JOHN, his successor.

The younger son,

JOHN, 6th Earl of Crawford, was accused, with his sister-in-law, of murdering the Master, his brother. All enquiry into this alleged crime was arrested by the fatal field of Flodden, where, in company with the greater part of the Scottish nobles, he fell near the person of King JAMES IV. He m. Mariota, dau. of Alexander, 2nd Lord Home, and d. s. p. His uncle,

ALEXANDER, s. in 1513, as 7th Earl, m. Margaret Campbell (Ardkinglass), d. May, 1517, and was s. by his elder son,

DAVID, s. as 8th Earl of Crawford, in 1517, and m. 1st, Lady Mariana Hay, dau. of William, 3rd Earl of Errol, by whom he had a son, 3 Margaret, m. 1595, David, 1st Earl of Southesk.

II. John, who was granted the ecclesiastical revenues of Menmuir, Lethnot, and Lochlee, and created a lord of session as Lord Menmuir. He was one of the Octavians or eight persons in charge of the royal finances, and occupied an important place in the public life of his time. Having m. Marion Guthrie, widow of Sir John Borthwick, he bought Balcarres from his stepson, and established his family there. He had two sons,

*The earldom of Crawford, included, besides the original ship, the baronies of Finhaven, Forest of Platane, In- rity, Kerne, Glenesk, Clova, Kenblythmont, Guthrie, ges, Kirkbotho, and the thanedom of Downie, in Angus; gle, Balmdalock, Alyth, Baltoody, Pitfour, Melgind, hven, Lethno, and Carnbathy, in Perthshire; the thane- of Newdosk, in the Mearns; the baronies of Auchterallon, berdeenshire; Strathnairn, in Inverness-shire; and the lity of Kirkmichael, in Dumfries. The earls had also ditary revenues from the Great Customs of Dundee, trose, Forfar, Crail, Aberdeen, and Banff.

1 John, d. s. p.
2 David, created Lord Balcarres, ancestor of the present Earl of Crawford, who will be noticed presently.

David, 10th Earl of Crawford, s. his kinsman, in 1558, and was a faithful adherent of Queen Mary's cause. By his wife, Margaret Beatoun, dau. of the Cardinal Archbishop of St. Andrews, he left issue,

I. David, his heir.
II. Henry, s. as 13th earl.
III. Sir John, K.B., of Ballinscho, who d. 6 Jan. 1609, having by his wife, Catherine, dau. of John Lindsay, of Balcarres, Lord Menmuir, had three sons, Colonel John, who fell in battle 1631; Colonel Alexander, who also fell in battle; and Colonel Henry, who d. at Hamburg 1639; all s. p.
IV. Alexander, who accompanied King James VI. to Denmark, on the occasion of his marriage, and was afterwards created Lord Spynie, 17 April, 1692. By his wife, Jean Lyon, Countess of Angus, he had issue (besides other children),

Alexander, 2nd Lord Spynie, who fought in Germany, under Gustavus Adolphus. By his 2nd wife, Lady Margaret Hay (Kinnoul), he had issue,

1 Alexander, d. s. p.
2 George, 3rd Lord Spynie, who ruined his estate in raising forces for King Charles I. On the death of Ludovic, 16th Earl of Crawford, he became Lord Lindsay and chief of the house, but d. s. p. 1672.
1 Margaret, whose descendant, Lieut.-Col. William Fullarton, unsuccessfully claimed the barony in 1784.

The eldest son,

David, 11th Earl of Crawford, m. 1st, Lilias, dau. of Lord Drummond; and 2ndly, Lady Grizel Stewart, dau. of John, 4th Earl of Atholl, and d. 22 Nov. 1607, leaving by her,

Alexander, 15th earl, who d. s. p., 1639, and was s. by his brother, Ludovic, 16th Earl of Crawford, who attained high military rank in Spain. During the civil war he commanded a regiment of horse on behalf of the King, fought at Marston Moor and Philiphaugh, and was taken prisoner at Newcastle. Earl Ludovic, with consent of the King, who granted a new patent of the earldom, conveyed the dignity to his remote kinsman, John, Earl of Lindsay, to the prejudice of his nearer heirs of Spynie, Edzell, and Balcarres, in exchange, it is supposed, for his liberty. On his death, without issue, by his wife, Lady Margaret Graham, dau. of William, Earl of Menteith, the earldom was taken up by John, Earl of Lindsay (for whom and his successors in the title of Crawford, until they became extinct in 1808, see Lindsay, E.), and the lordship and chiefship passed first to Lord Spynie and then to the families of Edzell and Balcarres.

David, younger son of Lord Menmuir (see 2nd son of 9th earl), s. his eldest brother John, in 1601, and m. in 1612, Lady Sophia Seyton, dau. of the Chancellor, Alexander Earl of Dunfermline, and was created 27 July, 1633, Lord Lindsay of Balcarres, with limitation to his heirs-male bearing the name of Lindsay. He d. in 1641, and was s. by his elder son, Alexander, 2nd baron, who received the special thanks of King Charles for his eminent services to the Royal cause. On the 9 Jan. 1651, at the Hague, he was created Earl of Balcarres and Lord Balniel. He became also hereditary governor of Edinburgh Castle, secretary of state, and high commissioner to the General Assembly. By his wife, Lady Anna Mackenzie, dau. and co-heir of Colin, Earl of Seaforth (remarried to Archibald, 9th Earl of Argyll), he had issue,

I. Charles, 2nd earl. II. Colin, 3rd earl.

Lineage.

The family of Croft, which is of Saxon origin, settled in Herefordshire at a very remote period. Camden, in his description of that county, says "Not far off from Richard's Castle stands Croft Castle, belonging to the very ancient and knightly family of the Crofts"; and in Domesday-Book, Bernard de Croft is mentioned as holding the land of Croft, which his descendants inherited until the close of the 18th century, and served their county and Leominster in Parliament during seven centuries, between 1297 and 1880.

From an almost uninterrupted line of knights, distinguished alike in council and in arms, descended

SIR JOHN DE CROFT, Knt. of Croft Castle, co. Hereford, captain of Merk Castle, near Calais, who was frequently employed in negotiations in Flanders, between 1402 and 1404. He m. Janet, dau. and co-heir of Owen ap Griffith Vychan, Lord of Glyndwrdwy, in Merionethshire, the renowned OWEN GLENDOWER, representative of the Princes of Powys, and was father of WILLIAM DE CROFT, whose son was

SIR RICHARD CROFT, Knt. of Croft Castle, high-sheriff and M.P. of the co. Hereford; the captor of Prince Edward, son of HENRY VI., at the battle of Tewkesbury, in 1471. This gallant soldier was appointed treasurer of the household to HENRY VII., and had the high honour of knight-banneret conferred upon him at the battle of Stoke, in 1487. The direct descendant of Sir Richard,

SIR JAMES CROFT, Knt., M.P. for co. Hereford was lord-deputy of Ireland in 1552; and, subsequently, privy-councillor and comptroller of the household to Queen ELIZABETH, and was s. at his decease by his grandson,

SIR HERBERT CROFT, Knt., M.P. for the co. Hereford, temp. ELIZABETH and JAMES I. This gentleman, espousing the doctrines of the church of Rome, in 1607, became a lay-brother of the Benedictine monastery of Douay, where he d. 10 April, 1622. He had previously married, and left four sons and two daus. Sir William, the eldest son, M.P. for Malmesbury, gallantly fighting under the royal banner, was slain in the grounds of Croft Castle, after the siege and capture of Stokesay Castle, near Ludlow, 9 June, 1645. Sir James, the 2nd son, was also an officer of rank in the royal army, as was Robert, the 4th son, and all d. without issue. The 3rd son,

HERBERT CROFT, was advanced, in 1662, to the bishopric of Hereford, and appointed, in 1667, dean of the chapel-royal. His lordship d. 12 May, 1691, and was s. by his only son,

I. SIR HERBERT CROFT, M.P. for co. Hereford, who had been created a Baronet, 18 Nov. 1671. Sir Herbert m. Elizabeth (aunt of the 1st Lord Archer) dau. of Thomas Archer, Esq. of Umberslade, co. Warwick by whom (who d. in 1709) he had,

CROMARTIE.

Cromartie, Countess of (Sibell-Lilian Mackenzie) Viscountess of Tarbat of Tarbat, Baroness Castlehaven of Castlehaven, and Baroness Macleod of Castle Leod, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, b. 14 Aug. 1878; by Letters Patent dated 25 Feb. 1895, confirmed in the said dignities.

Lineage of Mackenzie of Cromarty.

Anne, Duchess of Sutherland, and Countess of Cromartie, was the descendant of the Mackenzies, Earls of Cromartie, a branch of the ancient and historic family of Mackenzie of Kintail.

Sir Colin MacKenzie, 11th feudal Baron of Kintail, m. Barbara, dau. of James Grant, of Grant, by whom he had four sons,

Kenneth, created Lord Mackenzie, who carried on the line of the family of Kintail, and whose son was the first of the Earls of Seaforth, an earldom attainted in 1715, again created in 1771, and extinct in 1781. The Barony of Seaforth was given by creation, in 1796, to the heir male of the family, Francis-Humberston Mackenzie, Esq., and became extinct at his death without male issue, in 1815. His eldest daughter's son is the present Keith-William Stewart-Mackenzie, Esq. (see post Galloway, E.)
Sir Roderick, of whom presently.
Colin, ancestor of the MacKenzies of Kinnock.
Alexander, ancestor of the Mackenzies of Kilcoy, Barts.

The second son,

Sir Roderick MacKenzie, was instrumental in civilizing the northern parts of Scotland, which was of vast service to the nation, and so agreeable to King James VI, that he conferred the honour of knighthood upon him, and gave him a grant of several lands in the north country, then in the crown by forfeiture. Sir Roderick m. Margaret, dau. of Torquil MacLeod, of Lewis, upon which he added to his armorial bearing that of MacLeod, viz., or, a mountain, in flames, ppr. By this marriage he had issue,

Sir John, his heir.
Kenneth MacKenzie, first of the family of Scatwell, ancestor of the present Sir James-Dixon Mackenzie, Bart. of Tarbat and Scatwell.
Colin.
Alexander, of Baloon, m. and had issue.
Margaret, m. to Sir James MacDonald, Bart. of Slate.

Sir Roderick d. 1626, and was s. by his eldest son,

I. Sir John Mackenzie, of Tarbat, who was created a baronet by Charles I., 21 May, 1628, with remainder to his heirs male for ever. He m. Margaret, dau. and co-heiress of Sir George Erskine, of Innerteil, one of the Senators of the College of Justice, and brother of Thomas, Earl of Kellie, by whom, who remarried Sir James Foulis of Collinton, he had,

I. George, his heir.
II. Roderick MacKenzie, of Prestonhall, one of the Senators of the College of Justice, as Lord Prestonhall, who m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Dr. Alexander Burnet, Archbishop of St. Andrews, by whom he had a son, Alexander MacKenzie of Fraserdale, who changed his name to Fraser, on account of his marrying Æmilia, dau. of Hugh, 10th Lord Lovat, by whom he had a numerous issue. Lord Prestonhall m. 2ndly, Margaret-Halyburton, relict of Sir George Mackenzie of Rosehaugh.
III. Alexander, of Ardloch and Kinnelton. His great grandson, Sir Alexander Mackenzie (lieut.-col.), assumed the dormant Baronetcy of Tarbat and Royston, in 1826, d. unm. 1841, and was s. by his brother Sir James Sutherland Mackenzie, d. s. p. 1858.
IV. Kenneth, m. Isabel Auchinleck.
V. James, d. unm.

I. Margaret, m. 1st to Roderick MacLeod, of that ilk; and 2ndly, to Sir James Campbell, of Lawers.
II. Anne, m. 1659, Hugh, 8th Lord Lovat.
III. Isabel, m. to Kenneth, Earl of Seaforth.
IV. Barbara, m. to Alexander MacKenzie, of Gairloch.
V. Catharine, m. to Sir Colin Campbell, 1st bart. of Aberuchill.

Sir John d. in 1654, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. Sir George MacKenzie, Bart. b. 1630, a man of great learning, well versed in Scottish laws and antiquities, and an able statesman. In 1654 he was joined in commission with General Middleton, by King Charles II, to raise forces for his majesty's service, which he did, and maintained a war against the English for above twelve months, but at last being defeated by General Morgan, he was forced to capitulate, which he did upon honourable terms. King Charles made him one of the Senators of College of Justice, and a privy councillor. In 1678 MacKenzie was constituted Justice General, and in 1681 he was made lord register. Being in no less favour with James II, that monarch, immediately upon his accession to the throne, created him a peer, as Viscount Tarbat, Lord MacLeod, and Lord Castle-Haven, by letters patent, dated 15 April, 1685, and renewed his commission for being lord register, which office he lost at the Revolution; but King William being no stranger to his great abilities, was pleased to restore him to the lord register's office in 1692. About this time his lordship published, from authentic documents and records, his learned vindication of King Robert III from the imputation of bastardy, and rectified an error which many historians had most unaccountably fallen into. In the beginning of Queen Anne's reign he was constituted Secretary of State, in 1702; and on the 1st of January, 1703, her majesty advanced him to the dignity of Earl of Cromarty, Viscount Tarbat, Lord MacLeod, and Lord Castle-Haven, by patent to his heirs-male, and of tailzie. He was afterwards made Justice-General, which office he resigned in favour of Archibald, Earl of Isla, in 1710. The Earl of Cromartie m. 1st, Anne, dau. of Sir James Sinclair, Bart. of Mey, by whom he had,

I. JOHN, his successor.

II. Kenneth (Sir), of Grandvale and Cromarty, created a baronet, with remainder to heirs male for ever, and the precedence (1628) of his grandfather's patent. He was M.P. for Cromarty, 1710 and 1727, and d. 1729, having m. 1701, Anne Campbell, and had issue (with daus., Katherine, m. 1st, James Callander, son of Col. John Callander, of Craigforth, near Stirling, and his wife Anne Nasmyth, of Posso, by whom she had one son, John Callander, Advocate and Author. She m. 2ndly, Dr. Adam Murray, d. 1755, and Margaret), 1 Sir George, M.P. for Cromarty, who, in addition to his father's baronetcy, s. to that of Lord Royston in 1744 and sold Cromarty to William Urquhart, of Meldrum. He d. s. p. 1748, having m. Elizabeth Reid, who d. 1807; 2 Colin, d. young; 3 James, d. young; 4 Campbell, d. young; 5 Gerard, d. young; 6 Sir Kenneth, s. his brother in both baronetcies in 1748, d. unm. 1763.

III. James (Sir), of Roystoun, b. 1671, created a baronet, 1704, a Lord of Session, 1710; d. 9 Nov. 1744, having m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir George Mackenzie, of Rosehaugh, and had issue (with a dau. Elizabeth, m. to Sir John Stewart, of Grandtully, Bart.), George, of Farnese, who m. Isabella, dau. of Archibald Stuart of Torrance (afterwards, 1748, wife of Sir John Henderson, of Fordel, Bart.), and d. s. p. 15 May, 1744.

I. Margaret, m. to Sir David Bruce, of Clackmannan.

II. Elizabeth, m. to Sir George Broun, of Colstoun.

III. Jean, m. to Sir Thomas Stewart, Bart. of Balcaskie.

IV. Anne, m. Hon. Sir John Sinclair, of Murkle, brother to the Earl of Caithness, and a senator of the College of Justice.

The earl m. 2ndly, Margaret, Countess Dowager of Wemyss, by whom he had no issue. His lordship d. 17 Aug. 1714, in the 84th year of his age, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Cromarty, who m. 1st, 1685, Lady Elizabeth Gordon, dau. of Charles, Earl of Aboyne, by whom he had no issue; he m. 2ndly, 25 April, 1701, Mary Murray, dau. of Alexander, Lord Elibank, by whom he had,

GEORGE, his successor.

Captain Roderick, who went into the navy, was in the fleet in the Bay of Gibraltar, 1726, and obtained leave of his captain to join the land forces that were thrown into that garrison, where he remained during the siege: he soon got a pair of colours, and some time after a lieutenancy in the royal dragoons; in 1740 he was appointed a captain of foot, and in 1745 was sent, with a detachment from Ireland to join the British army then in Flanders, and always behaved with distinction: but the regiment in which he was eldest captain was reduced at the peace of Aix la Chapelle. He m. and had issue.

William, who likewise adopted a military career, and was first in the service of the states of Holland, in the Scotch brigade, and afterwards accepted of a commission in the East India Company's military service in 1737, and went with a naval armament against Angria, where he and the whole expedition perished in a violent hurricane.

Patrick, who being bred to the sea, acquired a considerable fortune in the mercantile shipping affairs.

The earl m. 3rdly, Anne, dau. of Hugh, 9th Lord Lovat, and widow of Peter Fotheringham, of Powrie, by whom he had,

James, who d. young.

Norman, who was an officer in the Scotch Dutch, and perished at sea, going from Scotland to Holland with recruits.

Hugh, also an officer in the Scotch Dutch, in 1757 he raised a company in Montgomery's battalion of Highlanders, and was the eldest captain in that regiment in America.

Æmilia, m. to Archibald Lamont, Esq. of that ilk, and has issue.

The earl d. 20 Feb. 1731, and was s. by his eldest son,

GEORGE, 3rd Earl of Cromartie, who, joining the rising of 1745, collected about four hundred of his clan, who were with him at the battle of Falkirk, and, after their retreat to the north, he, with his son Lord MacLeod, was surprised and taken by a party of Lord Sutherland's militia at Dunrobin Castle, 15 April, 1746. He and his son were sent prisoners to Inverness, and from thence to London, where the earl was confined in the Tower, tried by his peers, found guilty of high treason, and sentenced to death, and his estates and honours were forfeited to the crown: but he afterwards got a remission for his life. He m. 23 Sept. 1724, Isabel, dau. of Sir William Gordon, of Invergordon, Bart., by whom (who d. 23 April, 1769), he left issue, at his decease, 28 Sept. 1766,

JOHN, LORD MACLEOD, b. 1727, who was convicted of high treason, but was pardoned, and went, with leave of the British Government, into the (military) service of Sweden, and was aide-de-camp to his Swedish majesty, and by him created Count Cromarty. He returned in 1777, raised two battalions of Highlanders, and became col. of the 71st foot, with which he served in India with the local rank of major-general. On coming from America in 1784 his forfeited estates were restored to him. He m. 4 June, 1786, Margery, eldest dau. of James, 16th Lord Forbes, and d. s. p. 2 April, 1789. His widow m. 11 April, 1794, John, 4th Duke of Atholl, and d. 3 Oct. 1842. William, d. 7 Dec. 1736, aged 7.

William claims the Earldom of GLENCAIRN, as eal male descendant of William, 2nd earl.

Lineage.

ANDREW CUNINGHAME, first of the house of Corshill, was 2nd son of William, 4th Earl of Glencairn (see GLENCAIRN, E. of, BURKE'S Extinct Peerage), and like his elder brother, Alexander, 5th Earl of Glencairn, was actively engaged in support of the Reformation, and being convicted of heresy before the lords spiritual in 1538, had his estate forfeited. However, he was afterwards pardoned, and his property restored; in confirmation of which he obtained another grant by charter from the king, of the same lands, in favour of himself, his spouse, and their heirs male. Upon the death of Andrew, in 1545, his eldest son, CUTHBERT CUNINGHAME, succeeded, as appears by an instrument of sasine in his favour, of that date. After his marriage with Mauld Cuninghame (dau. of Cuninghame of Aitket), Cuthbert obtained on his resignation a new charter from HENRY and MARY, to himself, his spouse, and their heirs. He died 1575, and left two sons, Patrick and ALEXANDER, who were for some time under the guardianship of their grand-uncle, Hugh Cuninghame, of Wattersston; and two daus., Jean and Margaret. About this time the long-continued feud between the Cunynghames and Montgomeries appears to have been at its height, in which feud the eldest son, Patrick, was slain in 1588.

ALEXANDER CUNINGHAME, successor of his brother, m. Marion Porterfield, dau. of William Porterfield of Duchal, by whom he had two sons, ALEXANDER and Cuthbert; and two daus., Elizabeth, m. to James Dunlop, of Dunlop; and Margaret, m. to James Stuart, of Torrance. The eldest son, Alexander, predeceased his father, leaving by his wife, Anne, dau. of John Crawford, of Kilbirny, an only son,

I. ALEXANDER CUNINGHAME, on whom, and his affianced wife, his grandfather settled his estate in 1663, reserving to himself the life-rent. Alexander Cuninghame, senior, d. about the year 1667, and his grandson obtained a charter from the crown in favour of himself and spouse and their heirs, in confirmation of the disposition made by his grandfather; and, 26 Feb. 1672, the dignity of a Baronet was conferred on him and the heirs male of his body. By his wife, Mary Stewart, dau. of John Stewart, younger, of Blackhall, he left a son, ALEXANDER; and two daus., Mary, m. to Craufurd of Dalegle; and Elizabeth. His son,

II. SIR ALEXANDER, was served heir to his father in March, 1685, and d. 1730, having m. in 1686, Margaret Boyle, sister of David, 1st Earl of Glasgow, by whom he had a dau., Jean; and an only son,

III. SIR DAVID, his successor, in 1630. He m. Penelope, dau. of Alexander Montgomery, of Assloss, co. Ayr, and niece and heiress of Sir Walter Montgomery, Bart. of Kirktonholm (descended from the Montgomerys of Skelmorlie), by whom he had three sons, I. Alexander; II. David, who d. in Jamaica, and left issue; III. Walter; and one dau., Margaret, m. to — Craig, Esq. The eldest son, Capt. Alexander Cuninghame, was in the army, and served in the wars in Flanders. Upon succeeding to the estate of Kirktonholm, he adopted the names and arms of MONTGOMERY, in consequence of a clause to that effect in the deed of entail. He m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. and thereafter heiress of David Montgomery, of Lainshaw, descendant of Sir Neil Montgomerie, of Lainshaw, and representative of the family of Lyle, Lord Lyle. He predeceased his father, Sir David, by a few months, in 1770. His family, by his wife, were six sons and two daus., I. WALTER; II. DAVID; III. Eglinton, d. young; IV. Alexander, who served with the army in the American war, and d. unm.; V. JAMES; VI. Henry-Drumlanrig, R.N., lieut. on board the "Alfred," in Rodney's great engagement, 12 April, 1782, d. unm.; I. Anne, and II. Elizabeth, both d. young.

DALLAS.

DALLAS, SIR GEORGE-EDWARD, Bart., of Petsal, co. Stafford, Chief Clerk of the Foreign Office, b. 9 Oct. 1842; s. his father as 3rd bart. 1874; m. 17 Sept. 188[illegible] Felicia-Mary, eldest dau. of Rev. Canon George-Earle Welby, rector of Barrowby.

Lineage.

The family of Dallas is of great antiquity in the county of Elgin and Nairn, and derives its name from the locality which was the original settlement of the clan. Dallas is a parish of co. Elgin, in the presbytery of Forres, and synod of Moray. The name is composed of two Gaelic words—dale, a valley or plain, and uis, contracted from uisg, water. The barony of Dallas, containing the remains of the castle of Dallas or Torcastle, has long been the property of the Cummings of Altyre. The branch of the family of Dallas, from which the present Baronet is descended, removed to Cantray, in the parish of Cawdor, presbytery of Mairn, and synod of Moray, in the 2nd year of King ROBERT III. (1400), and remained in possession of that barony for nearly 400 years, until the estate was alienated by sale to the family of Davidson. For an account of the family of Dallas see BURKE'S Landed Gentry, DALLAS of YORKE.

JAMES DALLAS, Laird of Cantray, was killed at Culloden, and soon after that event, some of his clan emigrated to the West Indies and the United States of America, where they formed establishments, to which, in memory of their Highland home and ancestry, they gave the same territorial designation. Dallas Castle is an estate of considerable importance in the island of Jamaica, and the county of Dallas is an extensive district in the state of Alabama. The American branch of this family attained great distinction in the United States. Alexander Dallas, whose father had settled in Jamaica, was an eminent advocate at the bar of adelphia, and filled high office in the Cabinet of two essive Presidents. His eldest son, GEORGE MIFFLIN AS, was also a leading member of the Bar, senator of sylvania, and vice-president of the United States. He also minister plenipotentiary of the United States at 'etersburg in 1835, and at the Court of St. James in 1856.

ORGE DALLAS, of St. Martin's, N.B., was a lawyer of t eminence at Edinburgh in the 16th century, and ber of the Great Seal of Scotland. He was the ancestor ie late General Sir Thomas Dallas, G.C.B., of the E.I.C.'s y.

Lineage.

The Scottish title of Darnley was first created in the 15th century, being then conferred, at the coronation of King James III., on Sir John Stewart, of Darnley, afterwards Earl of Lennox. Details of the famous House of Stewart, Dukes of Lennox and Richmond, are given in Burke's Extinct and Dormant Peerage.

John Bligh, Esq., M.P., son of Right Hon. Thomas Bligh* of Rathmore, Meath, M.P. for that shire, and of the privy council to Queen Anne, by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of Col. James Naper, of Loughcrew, m. 24 Aug. 1713, Lady Theodosia Hyde, then only dau. and heir of Edward, 3rd Earl of Clarendon, by Catharine his wife, only dau. and heir of Henry O'Brien, Lord of Ibrickan, by the Lady Catherine Stewart, his wife, sister and heir of Charles, 6th Duke of Lennox, and 3rd Duke of Richmond, Lord of Aubigny in France, and granddau. of Esme Stewart, 3rd Duke of Lennox, by Catharine Clifton his wife, only dau. and heir of Sir Gervase Clifton, Knt. of Leighton Bromswold, and who was summoned to parliament as a baron from 9 July, 1608, to 5 April, 1614. Mr. Bligh was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 14 Sept. 1721, in the dignity of Baron Clifton, of Rathmore, advanced, 7 March, 1723, to the Viscounty of Darnley, and created, 29 June, 1725, Earl of Darnley. He d. 12 Sept. 1728, leaving issue,

Lineage.

Thomas Legge served the office of Sheriff for the city of London in 1343, and was Lord Mayor in the years 1346 and 1353. In 1338, this opulent citizen lent Edward III. £300 towards carrying on the war with France, which was a very considerable sum in those days, and more than any other citizen advanced, except the lord-mayor and Simon de Mancis, who lent each £800 in the ensuing year. Alderman Legge is stated to have m. Lady Elizabeth Beauchamp, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Warwick; he had two sons, Simon, his heir, and John, knt. of the shire for Surrey, 1379, beheaded by Wat Tyler's rebels. The elder son,

Simon Legge, m. Joan, dau. of Joan Clavering, and was father of,

Thomas Legge, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Blount; and his eldest surviving son,

William Legge, going into Ireland, m. Anne, only dau. of John, son of Miles, Lord Bermingham. He d. at the advanced age of 90, and was s. by his son,

Edward Legge, vice-president of Munster during the lieutenancy of his kinsman, Sir Charles Blount, Lord Mountjoy. This gentleman m. Mary, dau. of Percy Walsh, Esq. of Moyvalley, and had six sons and seven daus. The eldest son,

William Legge, was brought out of Ireland by his godfather, Henry Danvers, Earl of Danby, and sent by him to serve as a volunteer under Gustavus-Adolphus of Sweden; and he fought afterwards under Prince Maurice of Orange, in the Low Countries. On his return to England, he was first constituted keeper of the king's wardrobe, during life; and made, soon after, groom of the bedchamber Col. Legge, during the civil wars, became eminently distinguished by his faithful attachment to Charles I., and his persevering exertions in the royal cause, before and after the murder of the king. At the battle of Worcester he was wounded and taken prisoner, and would have been executed, if his wife had not contrived his escape from Coventry gaol in her own clothes. He was high in favour after the Restoration, and enjoyed several lucrative and honourable offices. He m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir William Washington, of Packington, co. Leicester, and granddau., maternally, of Sir George Villiers, of Brooksby, in the same co.; and dying in 1672, was s. by his eldest son,

George Legge, Esq., a naval and military officer of eminence. From 1667 to 1672, he commanded line-of-battle ships, and was appointed in the latter year lieut.-governor of Portsmouth; in 1673, advanced to the governorship, and appointed master of the horse and gentleman of the bedchamber to James, Duke of York. In 1677, Governor Legge was constituted col. of a regt. of foot, and nominated lieut.-general of the ordnance, of which he was soon afterwards made master. He was subsequently sworn of the privy council, and elevated to the peerage, 2 Dec. 1682, as Baron of Dartmouth, co. Devon, with remainder, in default of his own male issue, to his brother William, and the heirs male of his body. His lordship soon afterwards was sent as admiral of the whole English fleet to demolish Tangier, and, on his return, obtained a grant of £10,000, in reward of his services. During the reign of James II., Lord Dartmouth enjoyed the confidence of that monarch, and filled some of the most important offices. In 1687, he was appointed admiral of the fleet to intercept the Prince of Orange; but falling with his party at the Revolution, he was deprived of his employments and sent to the Tower, where he d. 25 Oct. 1691. His lordship m. Barbara, dau. and sole heir of Sir Henry Archbold, of Abbot's Bromley, and by her (who d. 28 Jan. 1717-18) had, with Mary (who m. 1st, Philip Musgrave, Esq., and 2ndly, John Crawford, Esq.), and four other daus., an only son, his successor in 1671,

William, 2nd baron, b. 14 Oct. 1672. This nobleman enjoyed the confidence of Queen Anne, was sworn one of her principal secretaries of state in 1710, and advanced to the dignities of Viscount Lewisham and Earl of Dartmouth, 5 Sept. 1711. In 1713, his lordship was appointed lord-privy-seal, and on the demise of his royal mistress, was one of the lords-justices of Great Britain. He m. in 1700, Anne, dau. of Heneage, Earl of Aylesford, and by her (who d. 30 Nov. 1851) had issue,

I. George, Viscount Lewisham, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir Arthur Kaye, Bart. of Woodsome, co. York; and dying v. p. 29 Aug. 1732) left surviving issue,
